Angry Western Delegates Call Off Session in Geneva

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Communist-backed Laotian rebels captured Padong today in defiance of the cease-fire endorsed at the Vienna summit meeting of President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev. The red military thrust plunged the Geneva conference on Laos into a crisis.

Rebel riflemen supported by heavy artillery drove royal army troops and Meo tribal fighters from that mountain base 20 miles southwest of the rebel headquarters at Xieng Khouang.

Angered Western delegates to the 14-nation Geneva parley called off today's scheduled session. They cabled their capitals for instructions on whether there was any point in continuing in view of this major violation of the truce proclaimed May 3 and violated repeatedly.

The British delegation issued a statement recalling it had "agreed to attend the conference on the clear understanding that there would be an effective cease-fire throughout the negotiations."

No date was set for another session of the conference, which opened May 16 and quickly deadlocked. The West demanded that lauce teams of the three-nation international control commission be given greater powers. The communists refused. The commission thus did little to keep an eye on the opposing forces.

The rebel attack on Padong was well underway while President Kennedy was telling the people of

Naval Grads Hear Address By President

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—President Kennedy today told the 1961 graduates of the U. S. Naval Academy they must be prepared for leadership in a troubled world.

"The battle for freedom takes many forms," Kennedy said. "Your devoted assistance is needed as never before."

Kennedy received a standing ovation when he arrived at the field house, where the graduating exercises were held, and again when he was introduced by the academy superintendent, Rear Adm. John F. Davidson.

After his speech, Kennedy handed diplomas to the honor graduates, headed by Jerome F. Smith Jr. of San Diego, Calif., who ranked No. 1 among the 785 receiving degrees.

Only the top 95 had the distinction of receiving their diplomas from the President's hands.

Kennedy was introduced by Davidson "as our commander in chief, the President of the United States," but the President referred to himself as "a retired civilian officer."

The President hopped by helicopter from Washington to Annapolis, arriving here at 10:31 a.m.

This is the week they give diplomas away. This week the high school or college graduate is handed the scroll which designates that he has stepped upward to a higher, more challenging plane of citizenship.

Pictures and articles of commencement exercises are prominent in this evening's Appleton Post-Crescent and will continue through the week. They will include reports of the graduation activities at Oshkosh State College today, Kaukauna High School last night, Neenah and Menasha High Schools tonight, Appleton and Kimberly High Schools tomorrow night, Appleton Vocational School Friday, and the commencement events of Lawrence College and the Institute of Paper Chemistry, both on Sunday.

Vienna Talks Reduced War Danger, Kennedy Believes

President Kennedy, Speaking from the White House, gives a report by radio and television on his talks with Khrushchev in Vienna.

6 Firms Face Charges Under Antitrust Act

Electronic Hardware Producers Accused Of Fixing Prices

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The government's antitrust division has moved against another segment of the electrical equipment industry, obtaining price-fixing indictments against six leading producers of electronic hardware used by communications and power utilities.

The six firms have sales of $30 million annually, supplying 75 per cent of the transmission equipment used east of the Rocky Mountains on telephone, telegraph and power line poles and underground utility lines.

Spokesmen for three of the firms said they were surprised by the charges.

Conspiracy Charged
The indictments, returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury to U. S. Dist. Court Judge Robert E. Tehan, charged that for many years the manufacturers conspired to maintain noncompetitive prices and uniform discounts and to establish noncompetitive distribution prices.

The result, the grand jury said, was that the hardware prices were maintained at artificially high levels and "distributors and public utility companies have been denied the right to receive competitive bids."

Named in the indictments were: Oliver Electrical Manufacturing Co., Battle Creek, Mich.; Utilities Service Co., Allentown, Pa.; McGraw-Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.; Josephson Co., Chicago, Ill.

Neither He Nor Khrushchev Won Victory but Mutual Understanding Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says neither he nor Soviet Premier Khrushchev won a victory over the other at Vienna, but chances of war should be less now that each leader knows better where the other stands.

Kennedy reported this to the American people Tuesday night in a 23-minute radio-TV speech in which he talked "candidly and publicly" about "a very sober two days" with Khrushchev.

In balance, the President found his first personal meeting with the Soviet leader "immensely useful"—even though, he said, a result was to expose more clearly the prospects of a long-term struggle between East and West.

May Resume Testing
On specific cold war issues, Kennedy saw some hope that his Vienna encounter would break the deadlock at the Geneva conference on Laos over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspectors freedom to check violators.

But he said Khrushchev struck a "serious blow" at the lengthy Geneva talks on a ban on atomic tests. He hinted that the United States, while not abandoning the talks, might soon feel free to resume testing.

"Our most somber talks," Kennedy added, were on Berlin, where Khrushchev wants to boot out the Western allies. Kennedy said he made clear America is determined to maintain its rights there "at any risk."

To any who might suspect secret deals, Kennedy added in reporting on his overseas trip:

No Threat of War
"No advantage or concession was either planned or taken. No new aims were stated in private that have not been stated in public on either side."

Generally, Mr. Khrushchev did not talk in terms of war," Kennedy said. "He believes the world will move his way without resort to force. Most of all, he predicted the triumph of communism in the new and less developed countries."

Denying this inevitability of the Communist victory, Kennedy appealed for national support of his $4.8-billion program of foreign aid for the coming year, much of which is earmarked for newly developing lands. "We have no more crucial obligation now," he said.

Bitter Debate In Assembly On Tax Issue

MADISON (AP)—The Assembly became involved in a heated two-hour debate today when Democrats attempted to withdraw Gov. Nelson's tax distribution bill from the Joint Finance Committee.

The attempt failed by a 52 to 45 vote as majority Republicans beat down Democratic attempts to cite the saving to each community under the Democratic governor's formula.

Democrats attended the session primed with figures they said represented the tax saving for each community in Wisconsin. Each time the Democrats tried to cite the figures the Republicans objected on the grounds the information was not pertinent.

Denies Urgency
Speaker David Blanchard, R-Edgerton, finally ruled that when assemblymen started discussing other assemblymen's districts, he would "rule against them and if they continued the sergeant-at-arms would be instructed to take proper action."

Majority Floorleader Robert Haase, R-Marquette, summed up the Republican position when he said over and over that the governor's distribution program, which would base distribution on population need and taxes paid, could not be taken up by itself.

Haase spoke for the majority when he said there was no urgency in the measure and nobody was going to gain a cent by bringing the bill out today.

Youth, 16, Admits Murder of Boy, 11

RAYNHAM, Mass. (AP)—A 16-year-old youth was booked on a murder charge today in the killing of a young newspaperboy with a rock yesterday.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis identified the youth as Richard Williams of Taunton. Police Chief Russell Reid said Williams readily admitted the slaying.

The victim was James Maurice, 11, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert P. Bemis of East Taunton.

Reid said the youth, who lives near the slain boy, told him they had an argument and he picked up a 10-pound rock and struck the boy in the face with it.

Other Duties to Keep Wiley From GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Alexander Wiley, who has had his differences with Republican Party leadership in his home state on various occasions in the past, said today that "unforeseen circumstances will make it impossible" for him to attend the GOP state convention at Eau Claire, Wis., June 10, troubled waters.

In a letter to GOP State Chairman Claude Jasper today, Wiley said he had been appointed an official delegate to meet with members of the Canadian-United States Interparliamentary Group which will convene at Washington this weekend.

"In these troublesome times, it is very important that all ties between our two governments be strengthened," he told Jasper. "As senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, I feel it is my responsibility to honor this committee's assignments."

Schaefer Will Sign Complaint in Case of Negroes Forced From Bar

Outagamie County Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer said today he will sign a complaint against an Appleton tavernkeeper who has admitted that he ordered two Negro baseball players out of his tavern, 523 W. College Ave., May 31.

His signature will force an action against Carl Ziesemer, 715 W. Oklahoma St., who has said he waved a blackjack and yelled at two Negro baseball players to get out of his bar, Carl's Tap.

State Atty. Gen. John Reynolds urged Schaefer Monday to bring an action in the incident. Schaefer has been seeking a complainant in the case since the day of the incident, but found none.

No Signers
The two Negroes told Schaefer Tuesday they would not press charges and would not testify.

Appleton Police Chief Walter Hendricks has said no policeman will sign a complaint against Ziesemer.

But Deputy Atty.-Gen. William A. Platz told Schaefer Tuesday that the district attorney can go before a magistrate as a citizen and be sworn as a complainant.

"That is what I will do," the district attorney said today. Platz called this procedure "a rare exception."

The trial will be scheduled to coincide with the Des Moines Demons' next series of games with the Fox Cities Foxes in

Castro's Reply Indicates He Will Go Through With Trade Proposal

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's reply to an American committee arranging to exchange prisoners of war for tractors contains 15 points that seem to indicate that he will accept the terms of the trade. Castro's reply was made public today together with a Spanish translation of the letter from the American committee. Castro began by saying the committee "has taken no practical steps to bring the negotiations to an immediate, positive results."

Wants Delegation
However, at the end of his letter he thanked the members "for their reiterated statements that they are actuated by humane motives and demonstrating their friendship for the people of Cuba."

Another paragraph said: "The discussion and solution of this problem cannot be made simply by cable and it would be better to send to Cuba a delegation including one of the principal members of the committee, preferably Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt or Milton Eisenhower whose names, being better known in political spheres, will contribute to the success of the question."

Cuba, Castro said later, "has the right to make an example of those who committed, against their own land, the crime of high treason, from the moment they began to act under the orders of a foreign government."

The reply gave no details of what kinds of tractors Castro wants.

He said the committee "knows exactly the type and amount of the material indemnity Cuba claims, since this was given expressly by the delegation of prisoners" who recently visited the U.S. to discuss the exchange.

Proposes Prisoner Exchange
"The government of Cuba will adhere strictly to these figures without entering into any bargaining type of discussion," the letter said.

Castro added that his government would renounce "material indemnity" if the U.S. government would free "an equal number of North American, Spanish, Nicaraguan, Puerto Rican and Guatemalan patriots" in exchange for the Cuban prisoners.

The letter said that Washington should propose to the governments of Nicaragua, Guatemala, Spain and Puerto Rico that they agree to the "liberation of the patriots" allegedly held in those countries.

"The Cuban government states, with all clarity, that in raising these questions it is not playing underhanded politics and will not desist from its generous attitude."

Won't Ease Law

Young Drivers' License Bill Vetoed by Nelson

MADISON (AP)—An Assembly bill that would have given courts the option of imposing a fine or suspending or revoking the driver's license of a 16 or 17-year-old driver on his first conviction for a moving traffic violation was vetoed by Gov. Gaylord Nelson today.

Present law provides for automatic revocation of a license.

Nelson said he believed that easing mandatory suspension provisions for youthful drivers would be bad policy.

He added: "If we are to make progress in reducing the number of accidents, which each year take an increasing number of lives, we must teach our young drivers the importance of absolute adherence to the laws governing motor vehicle travel. We must spare no means in teaching young drivers that an automobile is an instrument of destruction when operated contrary to law."

Licenses Prized
"I strongly believe that the threat of losing a treasured and newly-acquired driver's license acts as a deterrent to carelessness by young drivers. I believe that it is sound procedure to impose strict measures on young drivers until they have two or three years of driving experience, and have matured sufficiently to appreciate how easily accidents happen. In this way, we will save their lives as well as the lives of others using our streets and highways."

Expect Canada to Take U.S. to Task

Nation Irked by American Refusal To Sell Portable Grain Unloaders For Ships Trading With Reds

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was expected to take grave issue with the United States today for blocking shipment by tanker of some Canadian grain sold to Red China.

The equipment is reported made only in the United States.

U. S. Beefs Up Its Guerrilla Warfare Force

Will be Used to Snuff Out Brush Fire Aggression

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said today the Kennedy administration is beefing up counter-guerrilla forces to snuff out brush fire aggression without risking nuclear war.

In a commencement address before the U. S. Military Academy graduating class, Johnson said "The Communists will find that a nation which produced Davy Crockett and Daniel Boone and Jim Bowie is afraid in no forest, no swamp, no game of fighting however toughly it is played."

The vice president said one of the administration's goals is to produce through research and development "all those weapons of conventional warfare which will give us the utmost conventional advantage over any enemy in order to deter aggression without inviting annihilation through ultimate war with ultimate weapons."

Response to Threats

He added that in response to the threats against friendly or neutral countries, "we are stepping up the training of forces adapted to the most effective counter-guerrilla operations."

But Johnson told the graduating class its members are going to have to be more than soldiers. He said that as they move about the world they are going to have to be ambassadors selling the idea of freedom.

"Freedom has been murdered over large parts of the earth by propaganda, half-truths, and ignorance, supported by brute force," he said.

"I am no crusader. But I believe it is up to you and me to reach the minds of men the world over — to be able to impart to them the concepts of freedom, morality, and justice as we understand them. To do this we must be able to speak with wisdom, and, wherever possible, in the language of the people and in the context of their culture and history."

Co-Founder of Psychiatry Dies In Switzerland

Dr. Carl G. Jung Identified With Freud and Adler

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Dr. Carl Gustav Jung, a clergyman's son who became one of the three founders of modern psychiatry, is dead at 85.

The psychologist succumbed to a heart attack Tuesday at his villa in the Zurich suburb of Kuesnacht. His health had failed steadily for several weeks.

He had long outlived the other two members of psychiatry's dominant triumvirate — Sigmund Freud and Alfred Adler. Adler died in 1936, Freud in 1939.

Despite his advanced age, Jung until the last few weeks had continued to read daily and correspond with disciples and friends in many countries. A few months ago he wrote a scientific paper on dreams.

Called a Mystic
Jung, whose father was a Swiss minister, was often called a mystic. Critics challenged as unscientific the importance he attributed to religion's influence on the human mind.

An early student of Freud, he broke with the Austrian master's school of psychiatry because of its insistence that nearly all mental troubles stemmed from sexual conflicts in infancy. Jung contended analysis of man's immediate conflicts was more useful in understanding neuroses than uncovering the conflicts of childhood.

Developing his own school of thinking, Jung introduced the expressions "introvert" and "extrovert" as a description of mental attitude. His studies of schizophrenia—split personality—drew many converts. He defined the "collective subconscious" as the nucleus of the individual's soul.

Child Prodigy
Born in Kesswil on Lake Constance July 26, 1875, was a child prodigy. He could read Latin fluently at 6. He studied medicine in Basel, Zurich and Paris and became a specialist in neurology.

A powerfully-built man, he lived an active life, loved gardening and sailing and shunned publicity and newsmen. He retired from treating patients at 70 but continued his research and writing.

His wife, Emma Rauschenbach, also a psychologist, died in 1955. The Jungs had five children.

Texas Community Has 'De-Salted' Drinking Water

FREEPORT, Tex. (AP) — Citizens of this Gulf of Mexico town have been drinking sea water since May 31.

But they didn't know until Tuesday that processed salt water was coming out of their faucets. Nobody has complained.

The water is from the first U.S. salt water conversion plant, completed April 7. Costing $15 million, it can process a million gallons daily. The cost is $1 per 1,000 gallons or about five times that of water from other sources.

The U.S. Office of Saline Water built the experimental plant.

Nikita Life of Party For Indonesian Leader

Dances Cha Cha, Beats Bongo Drums, Grabs Baton to Lead the Orchestra

MOSCOW (AP) — While President Kennedy was telling the American people of his somber talks with Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet premier was dancing the cha cha cha—with President Sukarno of Indonesia.

Back from Vienna in a light-hearted, light-footed mood, the 66-year-old Soviet leader was the life of the party Tuesday night at a celebration for the visiting Indonesian's 60th birthday.

It was the gayest Moscow party in several years and Khrushchev was in his gayest form since he gave up vodka for orange juice.

Swept up by the rhythmic beat of a band playing "Indonesia Is Free, Cha Cha Cha," the Soviet premier was out on the dance floor hand-in-hand with Sukarno.

Just for Laughs
Khrushchev did a few improvised steps just for laughs — crouching as in the Cossack dance and kicking out his legs. He beat a bongo drum. At another point he grabbed Sukarno's marshal's baton to lead the orchestra.

When the Indonesian president suggested this would cost the Soviet government a new loan, Khrushchev turned his pockets inside out to show they were empty and quipped: "Look, he robs me of everything. He takes everything I have."

Nino Sits Out
Nina Khrushchev, who accompanied her husband to Vienna for his talks with President Kennedy, danced a bit, then sat out the rest of the numbers smiling.

The closest thing to a mention of politics came when Khrushchev took a dig at one of his favorite straight men—Mikoyan.

As the first deputy premier did a neat turn around the floor in a Caucasian dance, Khrushchev remarked: "You know, we had a meeting of the Central Committee about this, and the only reason Mikoyan is allowed to hold his job is because he can dance this dance."

Khrushchev and Sukarno left the party together. Hundreds of Muscovites on the street outside gave them a rousing cheer.

State Promoters Elect President

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells Tuesday was elected president of the "On Wisconsin Travel Committee," a private, non-profit organization formed to advance the state's tourist and recreation industry.

Olson is a resort operator and chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce vacation tourist committee. He was elected by representatives of retail gasoline dealers, restaurant operators and motel and auto associations.

The group will hold its next meeting in Madison June 20.

But even this was recorded as a gain, along with the yet unfulfilled promise of the Soviet leader to work toward the establishment of a truly neutral government in Laos.

There was no determining, at the moment, the eventual congressional reaction to Kennedy's appeal to the American people to support his new concept of foreign aid. His program is geared to lifting the living levels of developing countries he said could only be saved from communism if the free world offers a better way of life.

President Kennedy's Views Win Support Of Congress Members

Rides Crest of Bipartisan Backing For Hard Tasks Which are to Come

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's crisp description of the bleak realities of a divided world seeking to avoid a nuclear war won praise today from members of Congress.

Following a nationally televised report to the people Tuesday night on his European trip, the young President rode a crest of bipartisan support for the hard tasks he said lie ahead of the West to win an ideological battle with communism.

There was general recognition among Republicans and Democrats that nothing really had been accomplished in Kennedy's informal talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna except to put the participants in a position to deal with each other on a first-hand basis.

Oppose Bill to Raise Age for Beer Drinking

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's two youngest assemblymen Tuesday opposed a bill to raise the legal beer drinking age in the state from 18 to 21. The Assembly Excise and Fees Committee held a hearing on the bill.

Raising the legal age would make the control problem more difficult, said 23-year-old William Steiger, R-Oshkosh. He disagreed with supporters of the bill, who said it would help raise the ideals of youths.

Frederick Kessler, D-Milwaukee, who is 21, also opposed raising the age.

Supporters of the bill included Ray Bayley of Prairie du Sac, executive director of the United Temperance Association in Wisconsin. It is true that morality cannot be legislated, Bayley said, but "the law can and should."

"Raising the age will put the stigma of illegality on what now has the blessing of legality," Bayley said.

Assemblyman Vincent Mathews, D-Waukesha, an author of the bill said it would not solve all the problems of teenage drinking, but would be a step in the right direction.

Turkey Denies Report Of Alleged Revolt

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The government Tuesday denied reports of an attempted coup in southern Turkey against Gen. Cemal Gursel's regime.

Maj. Ali Atman spokesman of the National Unity Committee, charged that the reports were invented by agents with subversive intentions.

Back Door Spending Again

President Kennedy has asked Congress for authority to consolidate his principal foreign aid economic programs under a single agency within the State Department. The new agency would be known as the Agency for International Development. It would include the International Cooperation Administration and the Development Loan Fund. It would not include the Peace Corps or the Food for Peace Program. The Department of Agriculture will continue to administer the sales of surplus agricultural commodities and the Peace Corps will remain as a separate agency within the Department of State.

In order to insure long-range stability for his program, the President has asked Congress for authority to borrow $7.3 billion from the treasury over the next five years. This is the so-called back door financing scheme which has been so roundly denounced in Congress recently. The President has discussed this subject before and it is quite clear that he, and the members of his administration, firmly believe that our economic aid program cannot be carried on successfully unless we somehow provide assurances that the activities we require from our allies will be continued for more than one year.

As such matters now are handled, an appropriation by Congress is necessary each year. Some of the activities we undertake in foreign lands require commitments of their money as well as ours and the program must be extended over several years. In such cases some countries have been reluctant to undertake our proposals knowing that the American funds are subject to the will of Congress and might very well be cut off without notice at the end of the year.

There is sure to be a big hassle in Congress over this proposal. It is well understood by the American people that many commitments to back door spending are undesirable and unnecessary. They do not involve foreign countries very often and should be subject to the will of Congress.

However, it is quite generally understood that commitments to foreign aid require different treatment. It is quite probable that a good case can be shown for longer term commitments. The only way this can be carried out is through so-called back door spending: the appropriations are financed by treasury spending and are not subject to vote by the Congress each year.

Back door spending is difficult to justify in most circumstances. There are many who think it should not even be used in foreign commitments. However, it appears that the common sense way is to use back door spending sparingly but to use it when necessary. It certainly is a great folly for the government to have such a means at its hands and refuse to use it even when such a refusal will prove more expensive to the government in the long run.

If the Congress can see five years ahead as to what is to be done in the matter of economic aid, it would be wise to accept this method. If, however, it cannot see that far ahead and is quite convinced that changes are to be expected within that time, it certainly would be wise to refuse this method and proceed through the usual constitutional system of regular appropriations.

The Blue Laws are Legal

The Blue Laws restricting the activities of people on Sunday and those that require a day of rest have been on the statute books of American states since 1610. Virginia provided the death penalty for third offenders in such cases. Apparently the law never was enforced.

Blue laws have been traced back as far as 321 A.D. when the Roman Emperor Constantine issued a decree that all judges, city people and craftsmen must rest on Sunday.

Now the United States Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of the state blue laws of Maryland, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. In one of the several decisions in connection with four cases involved, Chief Justice Warren said that the court was not upholding any conceivable Sunday law. He warned that if such a statute had the purpose of using the state's coercive power to aid religion it would be unconstitutional. Nevertheless those who have studied the decisions say it is extremely unlikely that any Sunday law will be struck down. Alaska is the only state which does not have such a law at the moment.

The court, by a vote of 8 to 1, rejected the contention that blue laws were invalid as "an establishment of a religion" which is barred by the first amendment to the Constitution. Justice William O. Douglas was the sole dissenter who believed the blue laws were invalid altogether on the basis of religion. Of the four cases before the court, one was from Maryland which originated with the criminal prosecution of seven employees of a discount store for selling articles on Sunday. One came from Pennsylvania. There a discount house had sought an injunction against enforcement of the Pennsylvania blue law. Two other cases came from Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. Both cases were brought by orthodox Jews who contended that the state's blue laws were unconstitutional as applied to them.

Chief Justice Warren conceded that the laws would hurt orthodox Jews and others who celebrated Saturday as the Sabbath, but he said this was only an indirect effect on religion and was not a prohibition of its free exercise. Justices who agreed that there was no religious basis for contesting the law nevertheless indicated a strong feeling that the decision was wrong in permitting a condition which made one religion economically disadvantageous. As Justice Stewart put it, the law "compels an orthodox Jew to choose between his religious faith and his economic survival." He added that this was a choice that no state could constitutionally demand. Justice Brennan likewise declared that the decision "exalted administrative convenience" to a constitutional principle by refusing to demand an exemption for Jews and others who believed in a Sabbath other than Sunday.

The court has left this matter largely to the states. Wisconsin, for example, has prohibitions against some businesses operating on Sunday but the law specifically provides that those with religious beliefs which call for closing on another day may close on that day and operate their business on Sunday. Many other states have similar provisions and it must be acknowledged that such exemptions are necessary in the spirit of fairness. The U.S. Supreme Court, however, refused to write that into its decision but it has left the way open for states to amend their laws in this regard if they so desire.

Gasoline Taxes and Sales

The National Petroleum Institute is tremendously interested in the effect of the present high gasoline taxes on the sale of gasoline. It has made a detailed study of 48 state increases in gasoline taxes and three federal increases in gasoline taxes during the past 10 years.

In 37 of the 48 state cases the rate of gasoline consumption declined from the anticipated growth rate. In six of those states there were increased car registrations but that did not prevent actual decrease in the consumption of gasoline.

The federal gasoline taxes were increased in 1951, 1956 and 1959. Each tax increase was followed by falling growth rates of consumption. 27 states in the first instance, 40 states in the second instance and 39 in the last year of federal increase.

Out-Frenching the French

Observers predicted that President De Gaulle might be a bit miffed when President Kennedy made his European trip a tour including Vienna and Khrushchev instead of a visit to the President of France. But whatever the austere executive felt, the people of France went overboard for Jacqueline Kennedy. Relations haven't been so good since before Genet tried to influence United States citizens except maybe when Gen. Pershing visited the Arc de Triumphe.

Mrs. Kennedy not only looks French, dresses beautifully and speaks the language; she is willing to take a chance on fashion. She has to be careful to bring mostly American gowns of course. But she permitted a Parisian to concoct a dreadful hair style for her and she wore it with aplomb and poise. We devoutly hope that American women, already experimenting with the beehive effect, won't try to extend it with whatever it was Mrs. Kennedy had piled on top of her own hair. The "Jackie look" a la U.S.A. is enough for one administration.

But it certainly impressed the French. This may be a new trend in international diplomacy.

Recommended Boy be Sent to Wales Before Striking Incident

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In the past two months it seems many of the letters in this section have been chastising you and your reporters for sensationalism, half truths, or poor editorial taste. I realize you have many problems of deadlines and lack of sources for adequate verification of some stories.

However, in your May 25 edition your reporter rather badly garbled the facts even though he had them fully written and verified before him. Your eye-catcher read was "Youth Strikes Welfare Man, Sent to Wales." The first paragraph read, "A fifteen-year-old Appleton boy was sent to the school for boys at Wales today because he struck an Outagamie County Welfare worker."

The above paragraph, I fear, will lead many to believe the boy was being sent to Wales for punishment and because of the anger of the court and Welfare Department over his having struck a court officer. Your reporter could quickly have realized the erroneousness of this paragraph by reading further in the record from whence he took a detail and turned it into the primary motivation.

In the Jan. 25 court report the court was informed that this boy who had stolen four cars and other assorted articles had great difficulty keeping his explosive emotions under control, and in the future a period of stay at the boys school may be necessary to help the boy learn some ways of controlling his impulsive and inappropriate reactions to many average situations.

On May 8, 1961, the boy was returned to court with a strong recommendation that he be placed at Wales, as the boy could not tolerate the school, home, community, or himself. This recommendation was for the boy's best interests and not for punishment. The court took the recommendation under advisement and allowed the boy to remain at home for the remainder of the school term on the boy's promise that his entire method of relating to other people would change. He was to be returned to court on June 15 or sooner if the promised improvement failed to materialize.

The boy did not improve at home or in school. The striking incident took place on May 16, eight days after the recommendation that the boy be placed at Wales. The return to court for placement at Wales did not take place until nine days after the striking incident, and then the return to court was because the boy was deteriorating in his overall behavior. The striking incident was only a minor symptom or one of a dozen examples which pointed up the major problem the boy had of being unable to place any limits upon himself or to accept any limits from others.

I believe this adequately explains why I must disagree strongly with the implication that the boy was "Sent to Wales" for striking a welfare worker.

I am most concerned about this type of reporting because it continues to feed the erroneous conception that our various institutions are for punishment of children.

The institution at Wales was recommended instead of many other possible dispositions because we have found they do a better job of assisting a boy with this type of personality problem than any other resource we have.

I hope subsequent articles can place the emphasis on what can

Asks Park be Returned and Re-Donated Without Strings

Editor, People's Forum:

According to the local press, Mrs. John H. Wilterding disputed my contention that the late Elisha D. Smith was an "egotist" at the presentation of the Indian Mounds Plaque to the city of Menasha on May 28, 1961.

She stated that she hoped that I would note that the ceremony took place on a Sunday afternoon and that a meeting of the Menasha Historical Society was, in effect, meeting in the park and not the local chapter of the WCTU. Due notice has been given as the Twin City News Record pointed out that only the WCTU could meet on a Sunday morning therefore one could only infer that the Menasha Historical Society was forced to conform to one of the ridiculous provisions of the late Mr. Smith's will.

Mrs. Wilterding missed the entire point of my letter to the Appleton Post-Crescent. My contention was, and still is, that the people of Menasha through their Common Council should prescribe the regulations governing the use of Smith Park without any advice from the grave which is supposed to be eternally binding upon every generation which may some day use this rather refreshing patch of greenery.

It pained me to note that Mrs. Wilterding declared: "We are very happy to be in his park." (Her use of the possessive adjective "his" is revealing, to say the least). Apparently the park does, in fact, belong to the late Mr. Smith as Mrs. Wilterding appears to acknowledge the fact that the conditions surrounding the "gift" of the land to the city really doesn't own the land in an absolute sense. The people of Menasha may utilize Smith park only if the late Mr. Smith's prejudices are made city ordinances. If this isn't done the land can then revert to the heirs.

The heirs of the late Mr. Smith could resolve the question of ownership rather easily. In my letter to the Appleton Post-Crescent, I suggested that the land be returned to the heirs and that the heirs should then re-donate the park to the people of Menasha without any strings attached. (Unfortunately this last suggestion was deleted from my letter to this newspaper). If this were done, then we could truly say that Smith Park was truly a gift to the city of Menasha.

The issue stated in its simplest terms is: Should the city of Menasha have a clear and valid title to this land or should the late Elisha D. Smith be permitted to inflate his ego by forcing his conceptions of morality upon the people of Menasha in "his" park?

I respectfully submit that the regulations governing Smith Park should be arrived at through the machinery of democracy. We do not need authoritarianism in Menasha benevolence as it may appear to be at times.

Looking Backward

Crescent Berates British Stand

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 8, 1861.

England through its Government officially announces to the world that she will treat the "United States of America" and the "Confederate States," so-called, upon terms of perfect equality. In other words, she will maintain, according to her promises a strict neutrality.

Can the quiescence of stupidity fail to penetrate the flimsy gauze of hypocrisy with which the British Government clothes its diplomacy? Selfishness, cupidity and an overweening hatred to liberal government characterizes the conduct of the present British Government.

Through her consuls she is even now forcing the blockade of southern ports to obtain cotton. Vessels known to be the property of United States citizens sail under British colors, obtain permits and manifests from British Government officers and slip into southern ports with supplies, loading back again with cotton.

England professes to entertain a holy horror against the system of American Slavery. She is just as consistent as one-half the anti-slavery politicians of the North-West, in that she doesn't care a penny for the Negro when her interest is affected.

Over 200,000 of her manufacturers are today bordering on the verge of starvation, owing to the scant supply of American cotton. Now she temporizes and equivocates. Now she affects a neutrality, a sure indication that her corrupt and diabolical Ministry is preparing to hug treason and embrace inequity.

25 YEARS AGO

Democrats Taunt GOP About Tax Problem

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The lot of the political minority in the state legislature is sometimes a happy one, as the Democratic minorities in both houses of the Wisconsin legislature now are busily demonstrating.

Virtually every member of the minority who has reflected even casually about the direction of state finance, about the steadily increasing demands for spending by all existing agencies and the development of new spending pressures at each session, is fully aware that some method of broadening the tax base is inevitable.

If it doesn't come this year, it cannot be postponed past 1963, in the most hopeful definition of the most optimistic politician. But the Democrats day after day are taunting the Republicans with the issue, knowing not only that the Republicans intend to levy a sales tax this year if they can, but knowing also that if the act is achieved it will relieve a possible Democratic regime in 1963 of the need for doing so.

Democrats know that they can have the game without the name, and they are losing no chance to enjoy themselves.

OTHERWISE

Some of the private citizen critics of the sales tax means of bolstering the tax base appear to believe that the income tax on the higher brackets is an alternative.

"Tax those who can afford it," is the refrain that runs through much of their objections of what now is apparently going on in the Republican majority caucus.

Yet it is a strangely muted fact that the Democrats in this legislature, or the Democrats in the executive wing, are not proposing any such alternative.

Theirs also is a base broadening method, albeit by means of the income tax.

But the principal increases in the Democratic administration's income tax proposal are in the lower and middle brackets.

And even those increases, as Gov. Nelson conceded as recently as his last week press conference, would be utterly impossible to enact — not to mention collect — without the artificial device of a withholding law that makes the employer the involuntary agent of the taxpayer in the remittance of taxes due.

There are a few Democratic liberals, almost all of them out of office and without any intention of running for office, who recognize that the trend of spending in modern times is such that ultimately the rates on the lower income brackets would become brutal, and far more regressive than the kind of a sales tax that is likely to be the alternative. Yet these voices make scarcely any impression. James Doyle might not have bothered to make his precise, logical and difficult speeches a few weeks ago, for all of the response he has had from his nominal associates in the party who sit in the legislature.

PRIVATELY

The more sophisticated of the Democrats in the legislature are fully aware of these considerations, but the awareness only sharpens their amusement.

Most of them have privately arrived at about the same estimate of the state fiscal situation and its requirements as have their Republican seat-mates. But the Republicans are in the majority position. They have the initiative. They don't like what the Democratic governor has offered and it is up to them, if they pretend to the responsibility that goes with their rank as legislative masters, to come up with a suitable alternative.

There may be a danger in such Democratic by-play. Gov. Nelson plainly would prefer to serve out his gubernatorial term without having had anything to do with the enactment of a sales tax. But he may not have a choice. He has not said he would veto a sales tax. If he should ultimately sign one, would that seem to be a repudiation of the gaily scoffing anti-sales tax position of his Democratic legislative friends?

Alabaman Tells of Things That Inflamm Southerners

Editor, Post-Crescent:

An editorial by your paper is reprinted today in the Tuscaloosa (Ala.) News. I hope that you will print this in your paper.

You ask: What kind of people are these Alabamans, anyway? I will answer for thousands of us, sir! We are ashamed Alabamans — humiliated Alabamans! Ashamed that mob action was tolerated by our law officers; ashamed of our governor for his indifference, his denial of his oath of office to uphold law and order; ashamed of our law officers who would permit beatings and terror to replace law and honor. We are truly ashamed — we ask for your tolerance of our failures. So please, sir — don't fall in the error of generalities always we do to help the individual and thereby all of us in the future rather than how can we punish past misdeeds.

Bernard Slumbras
Child Welfare Worker
Out. Co. Welfare Dept.

a mark of non-understanding; all of us "Alabamans" do not uphold terror by mob action, nor non-sensical beatings of innocent people.

However, we do not condone the actions of certain agitator groups either! This question for you sir and will you dare print it? To what good end toward better race relations and equality does it serve the "freedom-riders" to send to the deep South Negro men and white women together fully knowing how this action would inflame the passions of many Southerners — why, sir? If they were truly interested in obtaining equality in interstate travel why not Negro men — white men together? Why sir? And the leaders of certain of these riders — why of such characters. Men like Peck (FBI bait, communist tinged, draft dodger, federal penitentiary, etc.) Why, Sir!

And sir, your antagonistic words — you would fight this Civil War again? Have you no tolerance, no judgment.

Your syndicated writers, Paul Harvey, Edward Murrow, David Brinkley, Wall Street Journal are much wiser, much more tolerant than you! They say the freedom-riders should stop, they have done enough. We agree!

Race relations in this country including the South are far advanced over any in the world — understanding and affection between the races has grown — yes, even here in the South. The problem will be solved! The schools will integrate, buses and trains will integrate, our two races will socially integrate in the South! But be patient; go slow; tread light, be tolerant! Editor, Post-Crescent:

Dear "Holler than thou," I read your article entitled "Some Questions" and I am wondering if you should not write another editorial entitled "Some other questions" such as — Should people who live in glass houses throw stones? Or Can it happen here?

It would seem to me that the people of Alabama, that is the small percentage that would create violence, are not much worse than a segment of your own populace. If the depression ever hits and you become hungry, we bad Alabamans will be glad to supply you some crow to eat.

Charlie Explains About Handling Canoes, Trying Out State's Rivers

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Now that our little canoe journey is over and the way has been pointed for the casual amateur, it is deemed wise to discuss canoes and the operation of them. It is hoped that regular reader, whoever he may be, will not be irate. This column is intended for the tyro canoeist, the beginner, instead of for regular reader. Let the latter then not complain to the management.

Wisconsin is a wonderland for canoeists. We have so many superb rivers and so few people using them in the exciting way — via a dancing, gay canoe. It seems to me to be a wrong. Thousands of Wisconsinites are gathering in great throngs in public camping places, but all too few are traveling by canoe and camping when and where the spirit moves them to camp. Shame! shame!

There are noble, clean and lovely rivers for the taking — the Menominee, the Manitowish, the Flambeau, the Chippewa, the Wolf, the Waupaca, the Crystal, the Namekagon and many more.

On the shores of each of them there are beautiful, wild campsites most of which are better than the public lands which are now being crowded on weekends to the point of foolishness.

Wisconsin has rivers, but all too few canoeists. There are many delightful trips down gurgling streams, through placid waters, or even through rivers brightened by raging rapids so fierce that only the most skilled should dare to run them.

A Good One

One excellent river is the Flambeau. A little tougher, a little meaner, a little wilder than the recent one I have just completed with Appleton's Tom Mullen, but a good one nonetheless.

The Flambeau — from Park Falls to Ladysmith — is what I consider to be the best canoe trip in all of the midwestern United States. I ran her a few years ago and I know her to be wonderful training water for the tyro canoeist. Shortly after putting in near Ladysmith, the canoeist is thrust into a tough little rapids — just tough enough to make him cautious at the next one.

From then on, the rapids, when they appeared, were just a little demanding. Then, at journey's end on the final day, one sweeps through some fiercely boiling white water. But that good river is a fine training ground for those with just a little canoe experience. At the end of the trip, any person who made it will have become a good canoeist.

One Danger Spot

There is one rapids — the Beaver Dam — which ought to be portaged. The falls are abrupt and have almost a four-foot drop. Although I have run it, I know that some persons have been killed in the attempt. But, suffice it to say that the Flambeau (North Fork) canoe trip is wonderful training grounds.

A 16- or 18-foot canoe is good ing the paddle blade against the water away for the canoe. This method prevents the constant switch of the paddle from side to side, and it also compensates for the pull of the bowman. Its effect is to keep the canoe moving in a straight line.

Large waves should be met either at nearly right angles, or quartered into.

Bow Rides Deeper

When running rapids, the bow of the canoe should ride a little deeper than the stern so that the water can "take it" and carry it into the stream. Also, when heading into a strong wind, the bow should ride lower than the stern. If one is riding with the wind at the back, the bow should be higher than the stern. These things can be managed by slowing the gear either farther forward or farther back.

The center of gravity should be kept low. In rapids, it is well to kneel in the canoe to keep the weight low and prevent tipping.

When running rapids, I string a line through each piece of equipment and lash them together to the thwarts of the canoe so that in case of a tip, the gear will not be lost.

One should estimate his speed in most pieces of "paddle water" at about four miles per hour.

Faster Than Flow

In swifter streams, one moves a little faster than the flow of the river. A four-mile per hour stream should give an average canoeist a speed of about six or seven miles an hour. It is best to travel faster than the flow in quiet paddle water, one average canoeist can figure on about 30 miles a day unless rest or fishing time is needed.

The old French voyageurs customarily traveled at a speed of 40 to 50 miles a day, but they were accustomed to the work — and they were good at it.

Courthouse Race Vanishes as Issue

Democrats Give Up Long Fight For Non Partisan Elections in State

BY JOHN WYNNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MADISON — Nonpartisan election of county officers has vanished as a Wisconsin political issue.
The story was told in the Wisconsin assembly this week when members of the lower house by a resounding 81 to 11 vote spurned a measure that has been a favorite of minority Wisconsin Democrats for many years because of their awareness of Republican superiority in elections to courthouse offices such as sheriff, county clerk, district attorney and the rest.
Historically, minority parties have pushed nonpartisanship in county offices, in part because of the appeal to independent voters, in part because the courthouse machines have been enormous assets to the majority parties.
Given Up
But the issue has become academic. Even the Democrats of Wisconsin today, outnumbered substantially in the county offices, have given up the fight, according to the assembly roll call record.
The only scattering support for the abolition of the party ballot for the courthouse officials came from a handful of Democratic lawmakers representing usually Republican counties out in the state, where the insecurity of the occasional Democratic officeholder is greatest.
Legislative delegations of the Democratic counties, and notably big Milwaukee County, lined up against the nonpartisan measure which in earlier decades was one of the big issues in state politics and drew the anxious attention of civic groups such as the League of Women Voters, as well as some of the county officer associations.
One Association
This year only the Wisconsin County Clerks Association registered an appearance for the bill in committee, and did not make a strong fight for it.
The other trade associations of county officials evidently felt that the cause has become hopeless.

Author of the measure this year was Assemblyman Frank Nikolay of Clark County, who ridiculed the idea that state party organizations should be so eager to rely upon the political campaigns mobilized by courthouse officials who are performing duties essentially non-partisan in character.
"Any political party that must admit that its fortunes rise and fall on the nonpartisan county offices should hang its head in shame," he complained.
Refuse to Repeal Provision in State Labor Peace Statute
MADISON (AP)— The Assembly has killed, 47-42, a bill that would have repealed a Wisconsin Labor Peace Act provision requiring two-thirds of the workers in a plant to vote in favor of an all-union shop before such an agreement could be entered into by an employer and employees.
Supporters contended there is no need for the two-thirds vote and that it leads to constant and expensive polls of the workers.

New Round Of State Pay Boosts

7.8 Per Cent Raise Less Than 12 Given UW Employees

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A new round of pay increases for about 20,000 state government employees that will amount to about 7.8 per cent of payroll during the next two years and a boost in state expenditures of about $5,400,000 was approved Tuesday by the legislature's finance committee.
The decision of the fiscal arm of the legislature, taken without a dissenting vote, apparently forecasts comparatively quick enactment of the measure by the legislature as a whole.
The percentage boost compares with 12 per cent granted several weeks ago in the state budget bill for the academic employees of the University of Wisconsin and the state colleges, but spokesmen for the State Employees Union who attended the deliberations here made no criticism of the differential.
"It was the best we could do," shrugged Arthur Lemke, a Wau-water state prison guard who is the president of the state employee union which speaks for about 8,000 of the state's rank and file workers.

The money amount in the pay bill is about the same as originally asked by the state department of personnel and the department of administration, but the distribution of the new salary money was changed, apparently at the insistence of the union.
One Protest
Adjustments were worked out by Sen. W. A. Draheim of Neenah and Assemblyman Everett Bidwell of Portage, committee co-chairmen, and quickly ratified by the committee.

Wednesday, June 7, 1961 Appleton Post-Crescent A8
A lone Democrat on the committee at first protested, but then voted with the rest of the committee members for the boost.
But Assemblyman Riehle of Marathon County told his associates that the legislature is going to tax the lower and middle income brackets to pay for the state civil servants salary increases although most of the state workers are already better paid than the average taxpayer.
The committee explained that it would later write a pay boost bill for department heads of the state, and adjust the top ranking civil service salaries so that no subordinate gets more pay than his superior officer.

Kennedy Failed to Answer Key Aid Question

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy did not answer, in his nationwide TV broadcast, one of the most piercing questions in this country's whole problem of foreign aid.

It was this: Will the United States put pressure on backward and despotic nations to use American aid for the masses of their people up to the point of refusing any aid at all unless they agree?

Better Life

Stories of corruption and the rich getting richer and the poor poorer in countries receiving American aid increase. Kennedy himself in his broadcast Tuesday night acknowledged where this leads when he said: "If we are not prepared to assist them (the backward governments) in making a better life for their people, then I believe that the prospect for freedom in those areas are uncertain. We must, I believe, assist them if we are determined to meet the Communist invasion."

His broadcast, deliberately pitched in a low and somber key, revealed nothing essentially new about his talks in Paris with President de Gaulle and in Vienna with Premier Khrushchev. The heart of his talk dealt with Khrushchev.

In this he did two things:

1. He made it clear he not only solved nothing with Khrushchev but that communism, counting on the unrest and discontent of the poverty-stricken masses in the backward countries, intends to try to win them over when it can.
2. In short: the future is no bed of roses, it will be a struggle between the West and communism as far into the future as Kennedy can see. There are no short cuts, and there have been no settlements.

Without Optimism

2. Kennedy, having put the nation into the mood of realizing the long struggle ahead without any optimism except his personal belief communism won't win, then made a pitch for the continuance of foreign aid.

Every year since 1947, when foreign aid was first proposed, there has been some opposition to it. There is now, when Congress is buckling down to the task of working on a new foreign aid bill.

By handling it the way he did—the first the explanation of tough days ahead and then his explanation of how foreign aid is needed to block Red expansion—the President was actually making a pitch for broad public support of aid.

Wednesday, June 7, 1961 Appleton Post-Crescent A9

When Edward Reiter saw a Post-Crescent story Monday that the newly organized Indian Shores Association at Winneconne would meet at his home at 11:30 p.m. July 2, he told his daughter, Joan, secretary-treasurer of the group, "I'm going to be in bed at that time."

One too many "Is" did it. The meeting is at one.30 p.m.

Washed Aside

Everywhere around the globe where reactionary regimes hold power—and receive American aid—but don't really provide for mass benefits this is the reality: Sooner or later the revolution will sweep the world will wash them aside. Unless they are willing to share some of their wealth—such as distributing some of their land to the poor—their end will be sooner.

Without American aid, their end will be much sooner. They have nowhere else to turn for support except the United States. The Communists would make short of Tuesday night.

595 Anti-Segregation Arrests Dismissed By Kentucky Judge

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Charges stemming from 595 anti-segregation arrests involving 397 juveniles, mostly Negroes, have been dismissed by Louisville juvenile court Judge Henry Triplett.

Wednesday, June 7, 1961 Appleton Post-Crescent A10

Judge Triplett cleared the demonstration arrests from the docket "on the grounds I do not find it in the interest of the child or in the welfare of the community to proceed further on these cases." The arrests were made during integration demonstrations centered around eating places in the downtown area. All were charged with disorderly conduct following several mass arrests in the heart of the city's business district. The youths paraded through the area on several different occasions, chanting and singing. There have been no demonstrations for several weeks. There was never any serious violence.

lyn Manufacturing and Supply Co., Chicago; A. B. Chance Co., Centralia, Mo.; Hubbard and Co., Chicago.

If convicted, they face possible maximum fines of $50,000.

Hubbard, McGraw-Edison, Joslyn and Chance were among the 29 firms convicted in February in Philadelphia of bid-rigging and price-fixing on heavy electrical equipment. The firms were fined nearly $2 million.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who announced the indictments in Washington, said the cases were not related.

Fines at Dayton

Meanwhile, at Dayton, Ohio, four firms which were fined a total of $95,000 yesterday for price fixing in the sale of electrical resistors were able to get out of a companion civil suit, signing a consent decree.

The firms (and fines) — Allen-Bradley Co. of Milwaukee ($25,000); Speer Carbon Co. of St. Marys, Pa. ($25,000); Stackpole Carbin Co. of St. Marys, Pa. ($20,000), and International Resistance Co. of Philadelphia ($15,000) — agreed to go along with a four-part decree.

The firms are forbidden to combine to eliminate or suppress competition, to fix prices or conditions, to submit rigged or collusive bids and to exchange information regarding future bids or the dates of future bids.

Besides this the corporations must submit, anytime a government agency asks, an affidavit that they have not gotten together to rig prices.

Price-Fixing Charge

The firms and Edward W. Butler, a Speer Carbon vice president, and George W. Vater, sales manager for Allen-Bradley's electronics components division, were convicted by U. S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Weinman. They were indicted last January on charges that as early as 1955 they conspired to fix and maintain uniform prices for resistors being sold to both commercial and military users.

Judge Weinman said the fines against the companies were based on their sales and the cooperation each gave with the government's investigation. The maximum penalty in each case could have been one year imprisonment and/or $50,000 fine. Butler was fined $4,000 and Vater $2,000.

Officials at the Dayton Air Force depot in suburban Kettering said they spent about $3 million with the four companies in the last fiscal year. The firms are the only makers of resistors in the United States, the justice department attorneys said.

Kennedy Talks Lessened War Danger

earnestly and soberly and partly without text as he recounted the high spots of his 9,120-mile week's trip to Europe from which he returned Tuesday morning. During the afternoon, before going on the air at 7 p.m. EDT, he spent 1½ hours briefing congressional leaders at the White House.

Stronger Western Unity

He was most enthusiastic over his stops at Paris and London. There, he said, he accomplished his goal—"to strengthen the unity of the West."

During his May 31-June 2 visit with French President Charles de Gaulle, Kennedy said, "certain doubts and suspicions were removed on both sides."

"Gen. de Gaulle could not have been more cordial, and I could not have more confidence in any man, in addition to his individual strength of character."

The June 5 stopover in Britain on the way home, where Kennedy saw Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and the royal family, "was a strong reminder at the end of a long journey that the West remains united in its determination to hold its standards."

Glad to be Home

"But we are glad to be home," Kennedy concluded. "No demon-recurrence of the illness that troubled her earlier this year. Her physician said last night that Miss Davies, 61, is under treatment for osteomyelitis of the jaw.

The physician, who asked that his name not be used, said three out-of-town specialists consulted with him on the case yesterday. Miss Davies' condition was listed as serious but improved.

stration of support abroad could mean so much as the support which you, the American people, have so generously given to our country."

In telling of his June 3-4 meeting with Khrushchev, Kennedy said in like vein:

"The gap between us was not in such a short period materially reduced, but at least the channels of communication were opened more fully."

"At least the chances of a dangerous misunderstanding on either side should now be less, and at least the men on whose decisions the peace in part depends have agreed to remain in contact."

"Our views contrasted sharply, but at least we knew better at the end where we both stood."

$473,000 Award in Florida Damage Suit Reversed by Court

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The biggest award ever made by a Florida jury in a contested damage suit has been reversed by the District Court of Appeals.

A $473,000 judgment was given Lawrence Keegan, 18, after he was paralyzed from the neck down as a result of a dive into shallow water at Miami Beach in 1958.

The St. Paul, Minn., youth claimed the Biltmore Terrace Hotel was negligent in not warning guests that the water was shallow below a four-foot seawall.

But the appeals court Tuesday said "to require a warning under such circumstances would be as ludicrous as requiring a sign on the top of an office building reading, 'Don't jump off here.'"

Prosecutor to Charge City Tavern Owner

Appleton. The Demons will next visit Appleton July 28, 29 and 30. Schaefer said the two Negroes could and would be subpoenaed.

Former Policeman

Ziesemer, a former Appleton policeman for five months, admitted to Schaefer Tuesday that he had a blackjack in his hand and ordered the Negroes out of his bar, Carl's Tap, 523 W. College Ave. He said, however, that he yelled at them to get out because he thought they "looked too young" to be in his tavern. No one under 21 years of age is allowed in a tavern unless with parent or guardian.

Ziesemer admitted the eviction earlier to a Post-Crescent reporter. But he said he did it because he was having trouble with "so many Jamaican farm laborers."

Ziesemer told Schaefer that five Negroes entered his tavern. The names of all except Self and Haines are unknown. An unnamed person told Schaefer that the other three flatly deny being in the tavern.

The only three Negro players on the Fox Cities Foxes ball team, all 21 or older, have told club officials that they were not in Carl's Tap on the night of the incident.

The attorney general said Monday an investigation by his assistant, Weston Wood, Friday revealed that the incident apparently was a violation of state law that requires full and equal treatment of all persons in all public places of accommodation in Wisconsin.

A violation of the law is a mis-

National Guard Moves to Camp This Weekend

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's 32nd National Guard Division will be on the move over the state's highways to the annual encampment at Camp McCoy Saturday.

Lt. Col. Joseph R. Santimays of Milwaukee, division safety officer and provost marshal, said that 1,000 vehicles will be used to transport 9,000 men from 76 cities for their annual two-week training period ending June 24.

Santimays said the division has moved to Camp McCoy for 14 years, traveling 22 million vehicle miles without a fatality and is asking the motoring public to cooperate in making the move a safe one again this year.

Military police will handle the convoy from ground traffic control points and will be in radio contact with helicopters and liaison aircraft. The vehicles will travel at 450-foot intervals on open highways to permit civilian automobiles to pass.

West German Model Named Miss Europe

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Ingrid Moeckel, a blonde West German model won the title of Miss Europe Tuesday.

An international jury chose the 19-year-old German girl with luminous hazel eyes over 16 other beauty queens competing here for the European crown.

the United States in a TV-radio address from the White House last night that Laos was the one area which afforded some immediate prospect of accord.

Reporting on his talks in Paris, Vienna and London, Kennedy said both sides at Vienna recognized the need to reduce the dangers in the Laotian situation. Both sides endorsed the concept of a neutral and independent Laos, he added, much in the manner of Burma or Cambodia.

"Of critical importance to the current conference on Laos in Geneva," Kennedy said, "both sides recognized the importance of an effective cease-fire . . . I am hopeful that progress can be made on this matter in the coming days at Geneva, for that would greatly improve international atmospheres."

One western delegate at Geneva spoke strongly of "Soviet hypocrisy." The communists charged throughout the attacks on Pao-dong that they were simply trying to wipe out bandits. They said that the village was unoccupied when the cease-fire was called and that the Meo fighters and royal government troops were air-dropped later.

Premier Prince Boun Oum, conferring with French authorities in Paris, announced he will go back to Laos within the next two days. He said, however, he would return to France if and when a conference with Laotian rebel chief-

Ex-Cohen Associate Undergoes Surgery After Being Shot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Max Tannenbaum is recovering from surgery to which he finally submitted 48 hours after he was blasted by birdshot fired from a passing automobile.

The onetime associate of ex-mobster Mickey Cohen was listed in serious condition yesterday at UCLA Medical Center, where doctors removed one eye and probed for pellets which tore into his head and one arm.

Tannenbaum, 49, had previously refused to permit the operation. He was wounded last Sunday in what police believe was an attempt to scare him into paying a debt.

Screen Star, Wife

On Trial Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Screen star Bradford Dillman and his wife, former actress Frieda Harding, are living apart in what each describes as a trial separation.

Dillman, 31, has the title role in the motion picture, "Francis of Assisi," which was filmed in Italy. He also starred in "Compulsion," which won an award at the Cannes film festival.

A studio spokesman said Dillman moved out of the couple's Santa Monica home yesterday and is living with his brother, Dean Dillman Jr., in Hollywood.

Mrs. Dillman gave up her professional career when she married the actor June 16, 1956. The couple has two children, Jeffrey, 3, and Pamela, 1.

Plans can be arranged on the French Riviera.

South Viet Nam, an embattled neighbor of Laos, continued its fight against roving communist bands. The Saigon government announced its armed forces killed more than 80 red terrorists in weekend clashes.

Car Washes, Parties, Community Service Are Part of Tri-Y Clubs' Yearly Activities

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Spirit, Mind and Body are represented in the three sides of the emblem from which Tri-Y gets its name. Twelve Appleton clubs, with 289 members, meet weekly at the YMCA to plan and carry out various phases of their program which will earn them the title of Tri-Y Honor Club. These include two parent projects, two which serve the community, two concerning self-improvement, two instructional or vocational projects, two money making plans, a World Service project, the installation of new officers and induction of new members, a devotional thought at each meeting, and participation in the city and state Youth in Government program.

Tri-Y means more than work to the girls who belong, however. It means fun and fellowship with friends one's own age. The groups, which range through junior and senior high school age, plan parties, learn responsibility both as leaders and followers, learn work in a group and how to get things done.

A look at the clubs' record of accomplishments for the year leaves little doubt that they are able to 'get things done.' Parent projects included Mustapha Tri-Y's Valentine hamburger supper for fathers and mothers, Chico Club's bowling party with mothers, Pleides' Christmas party and talent show, and Juntas' parents potluck supper and morning coffee.

Community service was performed when almost all clubs sang Christmas carols at the hospitals and City and County Homes. Yogi Club painstakingly made yarn octopi and gave them to hospitalized children at Easter. Bo Do group made corsages for County Home residents at Christmas, and, feeling that they had become friends with the oldsters, also sent valentines. Pleides members took baked goods to the County Home when they gave a Christmas carol concert.

Thanksgiving Basket
Halloween pumpkins were carved by Cho Cho members for children at local hospitals. Members also prepared a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family and decorated Easter eggs for people at the County Home.

Juntas members served the community through the March of Dimes. S.H.Y. Club has found its service niche by giving Christmas and Valentine parties for children at Morgan School. The Chico group decorated the Christmas tree at Appleton Memorial Hospital and gave a party for children there.

Contribute To CARE
Pandora Junior Tri-Y contributed clothing and money to CARE, as well as giving a Thanksgiving dinner to a needy family, and raised a chorus of Christmas song at the hospitals. The Cudo Juniors gave a Christmas basket and Cudo Seniors, as part of their youth and government program, heard Mrs. Mer-ton Sealts talk on local government. As part of self-improvement projects, almost all clubs have had talks on etiquette. They have also had programs on poise, good character, grooming, hair styling, make-up, and sex and health education. They have heard talks on hypnosis, various job interests, psychiatry, religions, student-teacher relationships, and Russia.

Money-Making Projects
The girls earn their own way, both for the work and fun side of their clubs. Each group chooses its own way of making money. During the last year there have been bake sales, junior high dances, rummage sales, car washes, a chili supper, a candy sale, white elephant sales, and a hot dog sale in the Lawrence College dormitories.

The girls' favorite kind of party is a slumber-splash affair at the Y. They also have hayrides in the fall, sleighrides in the winter, dances in any season, and baseball games and picnics in spring and summer.

The dozen clubs are connected by an Interclub Council which has two representatives from each Tri-Y and Hi-Y — the boys counterpart organization — Club. Each group has an adult advisor who sponsors the organization and offers suggestions during the year. The YMCA also assists with program planning and makes facilities and materials available for use of the girls.

Club members are affiliated with the State, area and National Fellowship. They accept the National Tri-Y purpose "To create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community, high standards of Christian

One of the projects which helped earn Pandora Tri-Y the title of 'honor club of the year' was a recent car wash at Valley Fair. The groups earn money to support their own activities throughout the year. Putting a 'spit and polish' finish on a customer's car are Nancy Falcus, Bonnie Hueseman, Donna Koepke and Julie Huttenburg. At left, Mrs. William Sense Jr., Tri-Y advisor, talks with Chico president, Kay Schultz, and Pleides president, Marbeth Tank, about the clubs' plans for a Chicago trip. The visit, an educational project, will include museum and art gallery visits.

S.H.Y. Tri-Y Club fulfilled one of the requirements of an 'honor club' when they installed new officers May 16 at the Leo Frances home, 1406 W. Packard St. Outgoing president and installing officer Karolyn Stenlund hands the gavel to new president Susan Ashman. Advisor Lynn Weinberger watches the ceremony.

Homemade Bread, Cakes, pies and sweet rolls tempted shoppers at Red Owl Store when Juntas Tri-Y held a recent bake sale there. Mrs. Don Basford bought a cake from Joan Brucks and Virginia Boelke. At right, members of all Tri-Y Clubs were entertained by the Adult Committee at an awards party. Twenty-four club advisors were recognized for their guidance throughout the year, and the 12 presidents took part in the appreciation service. Club projects were judged by a committee of Y's Menettes. Enjoying refreshments after award presentation are Carolyn Selle, Hue; Mrs. William Selle, Tri-Y Adult Committee chairman; Sharon Simon, Pandora, and Cynthia Rowe, Cudo Senior.

First Lady's Wardrobe Arouses Fashion Paper

BY JOY MILLER
NEW YORK (AP)—A long-smoldering feud between Jacqueline Kennedy's designer, Oleg Cassini, and Women's Wear Daily, a leading trade publication, flared into the open Friday.

The president's wife touched it off in Paris Thursday, when a Women's Wear Daily reporter asked at a press conference whether the First Lady read her newspaper.

"I try not to any more," Mrs. Kennedy retorted.

The paper in recent months has had many articles about Mrs. Kennedy's wardrobe, how much she spends on clothes and that she has been ordering Paris fashions.

John Fairchild, publisher of the newspaper, commented:

"I am terribly distressed that Mrs. Kennedy is distressed with Women's Wear Daily. We have just reported the facts of what she is wearing because she is the most elegant First Lady we've had in years."

Then he added:

French Copies
"Most of the dresses made for Mrs. Kennedy by the American designer Oleg Cassini, who is a close personal friend of the Kennedy family, have either been direct copies or inspired by French designers Balenciaga, Givenchy and Cardin."

"All along she has been wearing almost line for line copies of French designs — made by Cassini. Why, if she wants to, doesn't she buy the originals?"

Women's Wear Daily said in its issue Friday that Mrs. Kennedy had planned to wear a one-shoulder dress at Elysee Palace reception Wednesday "but the wife of an important French official, Madame Jean Luc Javal, had ordered an identical dress from Pierre Cardin's spring collection . . . so identical the Paris couture couldn't believe their eyes."

Gallant Move
The dress is one Mrs. Kennedy already had worn in Washington. But the newspaper said she changed her mind at the last minute and wore a Cassini bloused bodice dress flown over from here — "one of the most gallant fashion diplomatic moves in years."

The newspaper called the First Lady's decision to wear a Givenchy formal dress and coat to the Versailles reception Thursday night "a gesture to France and her own good taste. . . the French couture has triumphed as always when it comes to creation."

Cassini chose to joke about the newspaper's remarks. "This man," he said, referring to Fairchild, "is the biggest buffoon of the century and the whole matter is one of great laughter to me. Obviously it's a personal vendetta."

"But while I have the chance I'd like to deny completely that I am influenced by Paris fashions. I simply don't go to Paris."

"Secondly, I would like to say once and for all that most top American designers go to Paris

Manawa Setting for Marriage

Miss Delores Glocke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Glocke, route 2, Manawa, became the bride of Duane Bork, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bork, route 1, Weyauwega, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Peter Buenting officiated at the double ring ceremony at Zion Lutheran Church in Manawa.

Miss Joann Daberko, New London, was her cousin's maid of honor and Miss Ruth Thiel, Manawa, and Miss Beverly Zirbelm, Royalton, cousins of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Marsha Schienderwend, Bear Creek, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Best man for his brother was Arlyn Bork, Weyauwega, and groomsmen were David and Robert Glocke, Manawa, brothers of the bride, Delmar Dieck, Lena, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Kenneth Glocke, Manawa, brother of the bride, shared ushering duties.

Blue Haven Ballroom was the setting for the supper, reception and dance. The newlyweds will reside at 412 W. High St., Weyauwega, when they return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

The bride is a graduate of Little Wolf High School, Manawa, and is employed at Zwicker Knitting Mills, Waupaca. Her husband was graduated from Weyauwega High School and is working at Borden Foods Co., New London.

40th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Arno Schmidt, 1358 W. Spring St., celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Thursday with a reception at Knights of Pythias Hall. They were married at Potter Reformed Church.

The couple has three children: Mrs. Ronald Stanelle, Hilbert; Mrs. Calvin Stammer, Appleton; and Wilmer Schmidt, Neenah. They also have six grandchildren and come back 'inspired' by the French collections. It's been an open secret and practice for years.

"As for the line for line copying charge, I challenge Mr. Fairchild to bring the two dresses together and prove his accusation, although I would not like to waste my time with a man of his caliber. He had better be sure of his grounds before continuing his campaign of vituperation and untruths."

Cassini said Mrs. Kennedy "had the politeness to call Thursday and say that as a symbolic gesture to France she was going to wear the Givenchy. I agreed with her completely. Givenchy is a great designer and I think she did a wonderful thing."

"I can say firmly and without fear of contradiction that, despite Mr. Fairchild's giving Mrs. Kennedy permission to choose her clothes where she likes, she will continue to use me as her personal and official designer."

ZUELKE BLDG.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

THERE'S AN ART TO GETTING A RAISE!

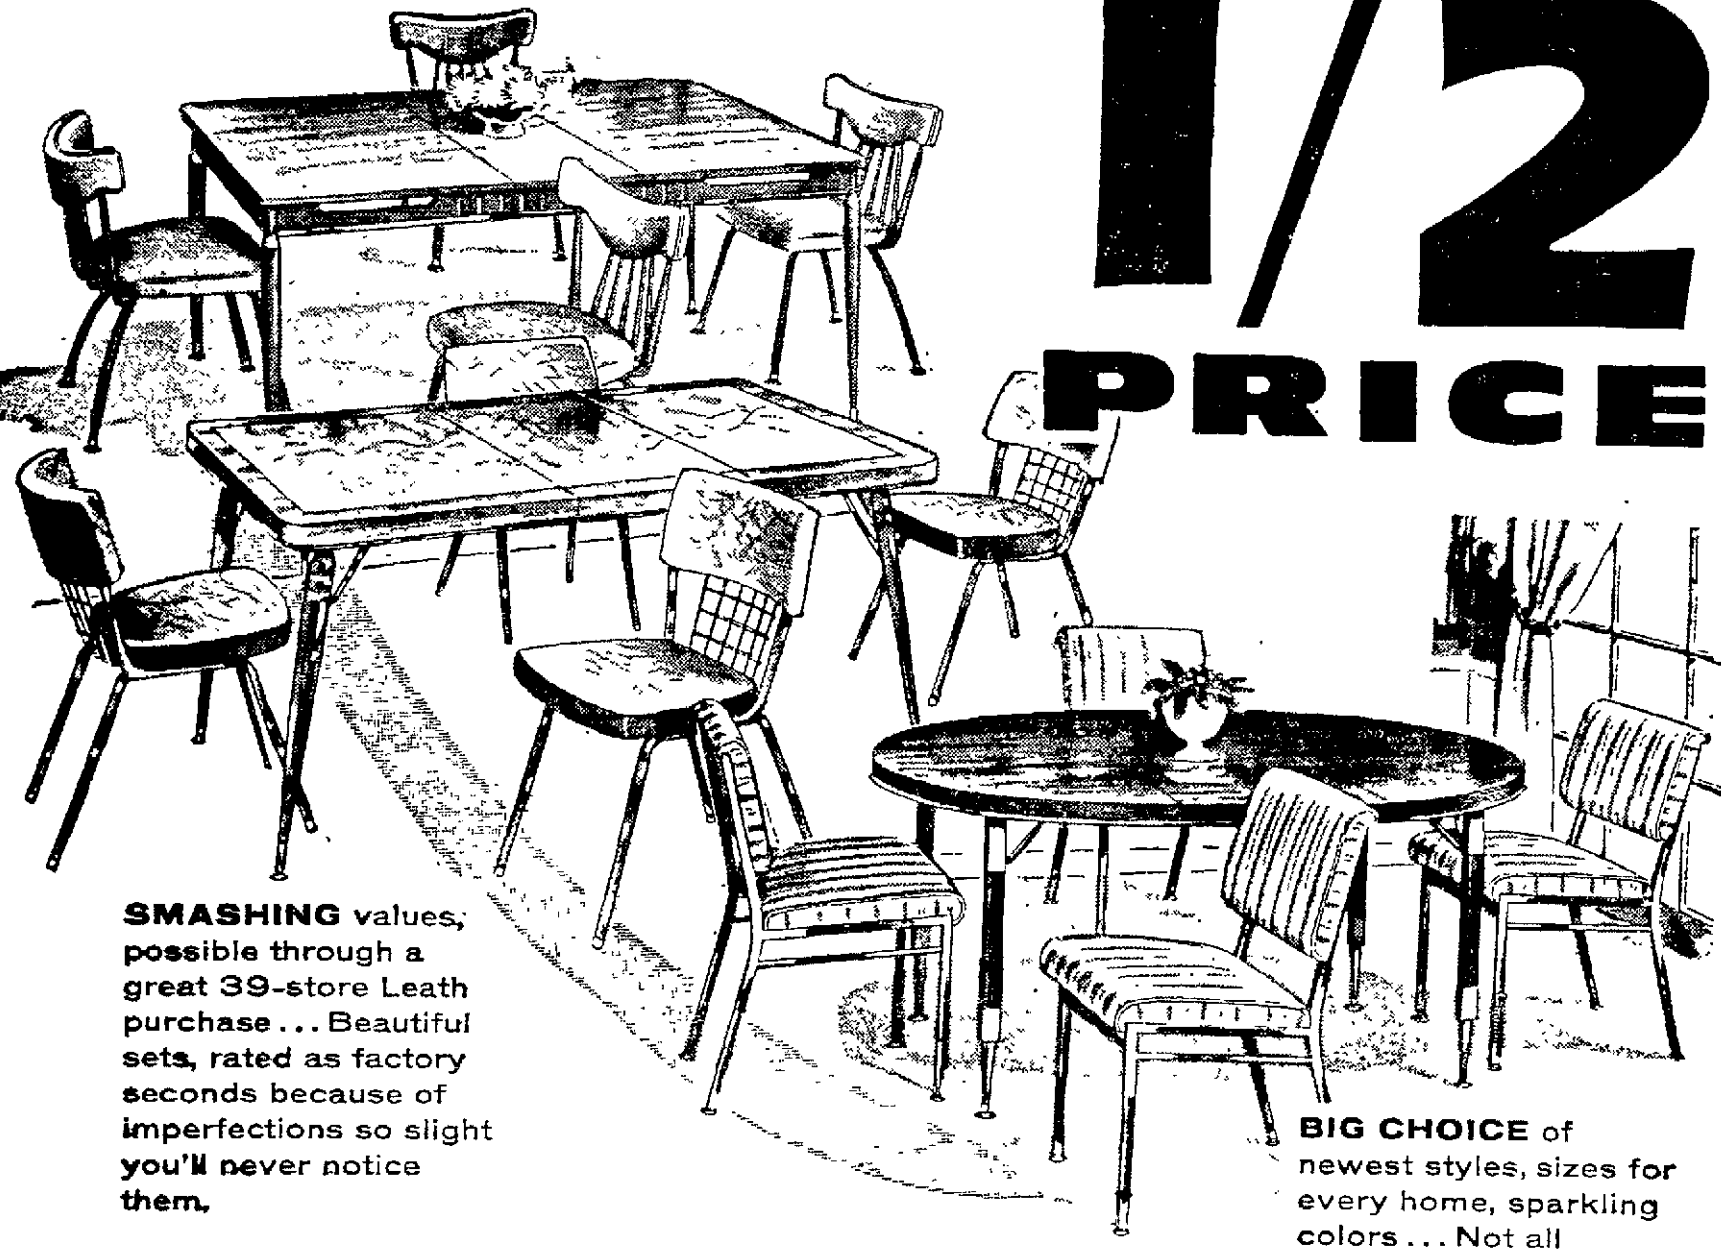

There certainly is. The first and most basic factor is doing your job well, so that when the question is raised as to who merits a raise, your name will logically occur. The second factor is to make yourself as useful as you can so that your services seem to be necessary. A third factor is to get along well with your fellow-workers and thus avoid the reputation of being a trouble-maker. Fourth, recognize that the boss is a human being in his own right, who can be treated as such without obviously "buttering him up."

WHAT DO TEENAGERS LIKE TO EAT? YOUR OPINION

Can laws reduce prejudice? Yes, although probably not directly. Laws can prevent some discrimination. By thus compelling people to mix more together, they help people to become accustomed to members of other groups or to seeing them in more equal relationships. These experiences, in time, can affect feelings. On the other hand, if laws go too far too fast, they may arouse antagonisms and do more harm than good. The use of laws to combat prejudices should be based upon careful, scientific knowledge.

Don't Put Your Cash In Bad Bank

Financial wizards frown on putting money into a busted bank. There may be a lesson in this for bridge players.

West opens the ten of hearts against three notrump, and South wins with the ace. This play should deceive nobody, however, since East's play of the four of hearts is unlikely to set West to cheering wildly.

South next leads the eight of diamonds, and West wins with the king. East plays the deuce, signaling an odd number of cards in the suit. (With two diamonds East would begin a high-low signal.)

Attack Spades
The North hand looks as solid as a bank, and the only way to defeat the contract is to break the bank. West must attack spades to drive out dummy's entry before the diamonds are established.

If West leads a low spade dummy will play low, and East will win with the queen of spades. This will leave dummy with the ace-jack of spades, safe against any further attack by East.

West can break the bank only by leading the king of spades. If dummy takes the ace of spades at once, there is no further entry to the diamonds. If dummy plays low, West continues with another spade. One way or another, dummy's entry is knocked out.

Without the long diamonds South can get only eight tricks.

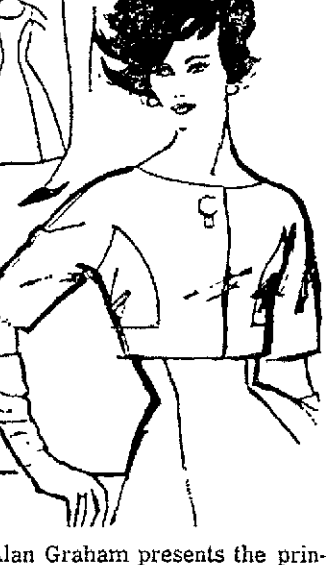

Daily Question
As dealer you hold: S-A J 4, H-6 5 2, D-Q J 10 9 7 3, C-4. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. Don't dream of opening three diamonds when you have a side ace and good support for either major suit.

Clothes Cosmetic
Bluing is a "cosmetic" which makes yellowed fabrics look white. It does not clean the clothes — which can be done only with plenty of soap or detergent suds.

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERN

NS-357

Alan Graham presents the princess charming with a dashing jacket escort. Bare-armed and buttoned on the shoulders, the refreshingly simple dress descends uninterrupted into a soft graceful skirt. The sleeved one-button jacket is a pretty affair of subtle seaming that carries out the lines of the dress it tops. Make this a bright sun fashion in linen, novelty cottons or shantung; it's a lovely late day ensemble for cooler seasons in lightweight wool or dressy fabrics. From these corresponding body measurements select the one size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to ready-to-wear.

Hikers Prefer Woolen Socks

Those experienced outdoorsmen in the Appalachian Trail Conference recommend wearing wool socks, because wool both absorbs excessive moisture and reduces friction — two major foot problems for hikers.

They advise carrying enough pairs for plenty of changes — and washing soiled socks in soap or detergent suds each night.

Chive Addition

New Paint Looks Like Marble
The beautiful, luxurious look of Italian marble can now be reproduced on walls or furniture with spray paint. Imagine all the decorating vistas opened up by this ingenious product!

This new product, which comes in ready-to-use kits, can be had in nine "veined" colors to produce a surface which looks like marble. A sudsy sponge washes modern "marble" walls or tables in a jiffy.

Adults Should Protect Child's Mental Health

BY ANGELO PATRI
Among the hosts of ideas that must be presented to all children, if they are to grow up in a wholesome fashion, is the key one of self-preservation. What I have in mind is not the material self—that seems to be well taken care of instinctively, but the inner, intangible self on which the health and activity of the body must, in the end, depend. Thoughts are powerful forces. This is too often overlooked by people who have dealings with children. A thought is not hidden; it exists and is felt and read by others in the complete absence of action on either side. It happens then that the adult who dislikes a child cannot hide that fact from the child, leading to a build up between them of a wall of resentment which in itself is a bitter thought that does neither any good.

Can Cause Illness
Mothers have this to combat in family life. Brothers and sisters, being different in characteristic fashion, quarrel. If one holds a grudge against another, building it up into hatred, as can easily be done, the end result for both can be bad. It can cause illness, bad behavior, wrong attitudes to others, as well as toward the disliked one.
I have seen a girl make herself ill because she was so jealous of her sister that she kept her mind filled with thoughts of resentment against her. As a result, her skin clouded, her hair became lifeless and the expression on her face turned so unlovely that her friends fell away. She was sick and the family doctor could not see why, until one day he said something that opened up the hidden thoughts that were poisoning her system. When she was taught to cleanse her mind of this evil, she became as healthy, wholesome and attractive a girl, as one could wish to see.
When a parent or teacher sees error of this sort clouding a child's eyes, shadowing his face, clogging his movements and darkening his mental processes, action should be taken. The child must be shown that, in every self-protection, he must wipe away any ugly thought that enters his mind and be fast about it, lest it injure him far more than it can the one he holds it against.

This cause of action can be described as mental hygiene, an essential course in the education of all children, to say nothing of their elders. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Council Renews Bar Licenses

City Retains One Permit, Pending Court Case Result

KAUKAUNA — Aldermen voted to renew existing liquor licenses in the city but held one extra license back, although two applications for the license were received.
American Legion Post 41 and Aloisius Belling requested the additional license available in the city. First Ward Ald. Bert Roberts asked why Belling should not be granted the license.
Belling had requested a combination class B and retail beer and liquor licenses for several years. He is operating under a class B retail beer license.
Roberts favored eliminating this beer bar by granting a full license. Ald. George Simon said the American Legion had bought a tavern with a license, planning to operate the same building as a tavern.
A dispute, now in court, over whether the transaction was legal, prevents the Legion from taking over the premises. Until this is settled, Simon felt the city should hold back the license.
Belling was granted a class B retail beer license. Approval was given to all licenses after report by the deputy health officer stating all existing establishments met city and state codes.

Young Hobby Club You Can Win a Big Globe By Entering This Contest

BY CAPPY DICK
A globe of the earth! This can become yours by winning a national prize in today's contest. It's easy to do!
Five big Weber Costello "Contour View" revolving globes, which seem to show the mountains in three dimensions will be given away as the national prizes. In addition, every contestant has diameter, are mounted on a walnut base and stand 15½ inches high. They show all the countries of the earth as well as the principal cities and, thus, make it easy to follow big news events as they take place throughout the world. Mother and Dad will certainly be pleased if you win one!
To try for a local prize (and then for one of the national prizes), simply fix up the birthday cake in the picture above so it shows how old you are. There are 10 candles in the picture, each bearing a number. Cut out the cake, paste it on paper or a postal card. Choose the candle or candles that will tell how old you are and clip them out. Paste them on the cake. For example, if you are 12 years old, you would use the candle marked "1" and the one marked "2," pasting them together on the cake to make "12." (If you are 11, you will have to make another "1," just trace the "1" on the candle you are using and paste it on any of the other candles.)
When the paste has dried, color the cake and candles and add any other decorations you consider neat and original. Print your name, age and address on your entry and mail it, before midnight of day after tomorrow, to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent.
Decisions of judges will be final. Names of local and national winners will be published here and their awards sent to them by mail. All entries become property of Cappy Dick; none can be returned.

Pitfalls of Rouge

Jackie Ends London Visit; Will Cruise Near Greece

BY FRANCES LEWINE
LONDON (AP)— Jacqueline Kennedy left London by commercial airliner today for a vacation in Greece.
The American president's wife was accompanied by her brother-in-law and sister, Prince and Princess Stanislas Radziwill, who make their home in London and with whom the Kennedys stayed after their visits to Paris and Vienna.
Two U.S. Secret Service men completed the party.
Mrs. Kennedy arrived in a six-car motorcade and was driven onto the runway and to the plane. U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce saw her off.
Plane Was Late
At the top of the steps she turned and gave a last wave of farewell to London. Once again she was a fashion plate — in a loose fitting turquoise coat over a white dress and with a black velvet bow in her hair.
The plane was 20 minutes late taking off.
It was to make a routine stop in Rome on the journey to Athens.
In London, the president's wife had moved to the inside newspaper pages and front pages once more featured the British public's perennial favorite, the royal family. Attention was centered on the wedding Thursday of the Duke of Kent, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, to pretty, fair-haired Katharine Worsley.

Guest of Premier
Mrs. Kennedy will stay in Greece until June 15, on a private unofficial visit as guest of Premier Constantine Caramanlis and his wife.
For four days she will cruise to some of the Greek islands aboard the North Wind, the 125-foot yacht of shipowner Marcos Nomikos. When ashore, the first lady will reside at Nomikos' villa at Avouri, a seaside resort 15 miles southeast of Athens.
Mrs. Kennedy, whose fondness for antiques and the splendors of past centuries is well known, was getting a cram session in Europe. On her last day in London, she and her sister spent an hour at the Antique Fair in Grosvenor House.
Visited Shops
They also went briefly to two antique shops but didn't make any purchases, according to Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary. One of the shops was closed, its owner off at a late lunch with a client, and local reporters made much of the idea that "one door was closed to Mrs. Kennedy" in Britain.
Cleaning Leeks
Be sure to wash leeks carefully when you are using them in soup or some other way. Run water into the tops, down through the stalks, to get rid of grit.

Chef's High Cap Has Tradition
The tall white hat which identifies a fine chef dates all the way back to 1566, when the King of France recognized and franchised the cook's union.
Besides having this traditional meaning, the hat is also functional, since its band absorbs perspiration and its puffy top allows air to circulate. The choice of washable white denotes cleanliness — an essential attribute of chef and kitchen alike.

Winnebago Lawmakers Lead Fight on Beer Law

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The entire state assembly delegation of Winnebago County Tuesday was involved in the boiling fight about the proper regulation of the sale of rural Winnebago County, prohibition of adults became deliberate beer to minors.

Assemblyman David Martin, by committee on excises and popularity of the national Volstead act.

Neenah, turned up at a hearing. fees, maintained a neutral stance. — for the time being at least — Martin argued that the state should follow the lead of his home city of Neenah and many others and prohibit the sale of intoxicants to youngsters.

Steiger, who was elected last fall at the age of 22, told his senior colleagues his view that unreasonable restrictions upon young people would invite a revival of the lawlessness of the prohibition era, when a general to back a bill that would raise the minimum age for buying beer to 21 years.

Assemblyman William Steiger, Oshkosh, told an assembly committee he was equally certain that the present statewide rule of 18 years, with local option for those communities that want more restrictive regulations, is preferable.

Opening Day at Swimming Pool Attracts 1,300

KAUKAUNA — Approximately 1,300 youngsters turned out for the opening day of swimming at the Memorial pool Monday, according to James Gertz, recreation director.

Ideal weather made this one of the largest opening days on record. The pool will be open seven days a week, from 1:10 to 2:45 p.m., from 3 to 4:45 p.m. and from 6:10 to 9 p.m.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

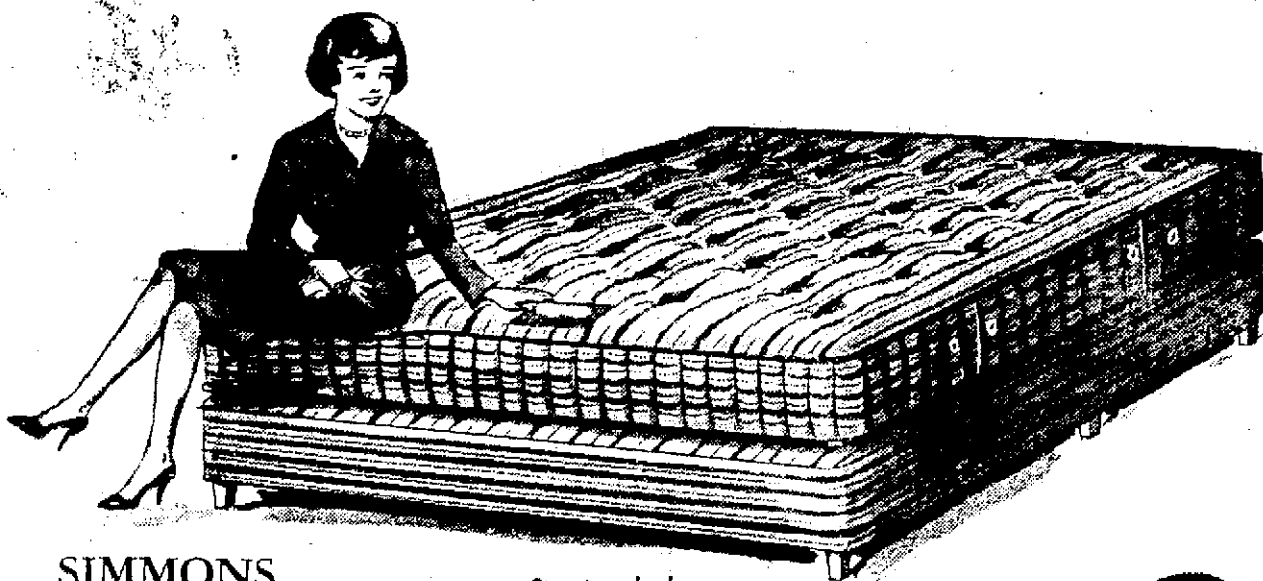

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONOID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONOID's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONOID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon. COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONOID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONOID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

All-Star Game Plans Revealed

1959 Pattern Used; Polling of Players Starts June 23

NEW YORK (AP) — The commissioner's office has set up a new set of ground rules for baseball's two All-Star games, July 17 at San Francisco and July 31 at Boston.

Reverting to the 1959 pattern, each league will have a 25-man squad at San Francisco. Each will have 28 at Boston. In 1960 each team had 30 players in both games, which were played within a three-day period.

The eight starters, exclusive of pitchers, will be selected by the vote of the players, coaches and managers in each league. The rest of the squad will be picked by the opposing managers, according to the announcement Tuesday.

Three More

When it comes time for the second game, the managers pick three additional players. They have to keep the original 25, except for pitchers. Each manager can replace any or all of his pitchers for the second game.

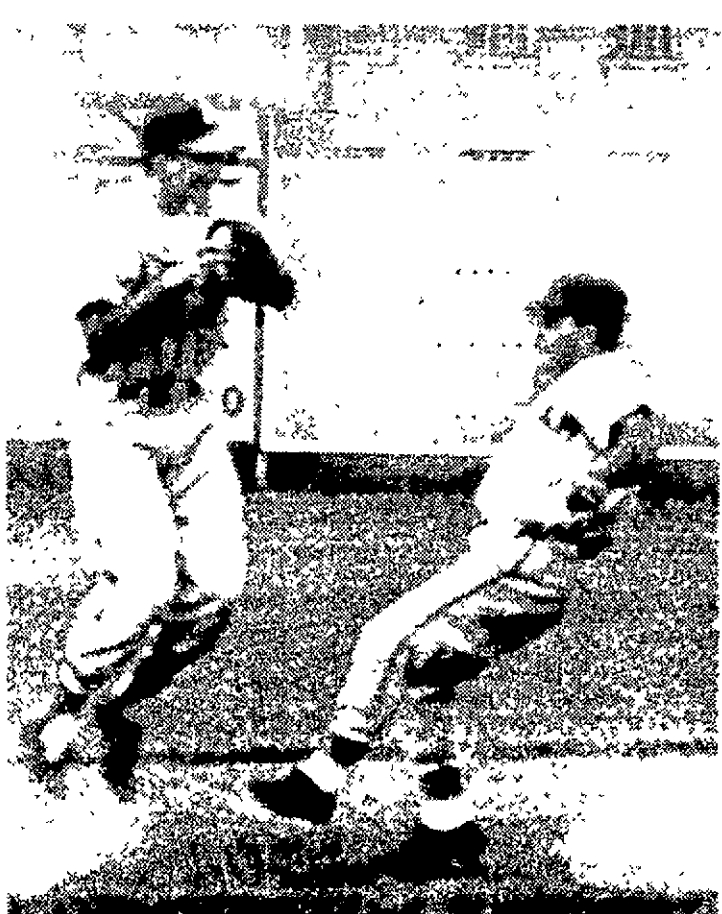

Paul Richards of Baltimore will manage the American League team in the absence of the retired Casey Stengel. Danny Murtaugh will manage the Nationals.

The first game will start at 1 p.m., San Francisco time (3 p.m. EST) and the second at 2 p.m. (EST) with each home club announcing its own ticket plans. Prices run from $8 to 2.

The players will be polled from June 23 to June 29 and the results will be announced Sunday, July 5. No player can vote for a man on his own team.

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Lou Molinas, 138, San Jose, outpointed Cisco Andrade, 136, Compton, Calif., 10.

OMAHA, Neb. — Lou Capellano, 135, Omaha, outpointed Chino Dias, 135, San Juan, 10.

Neenah's Tom Hensen is tagged out by Appleton's Jim Woller as he comes into second base in the sixth inning of Tuesday's Legion game at Goodland Field.

Foxes Launch Series In Lincoln After Losing Finale to Bees, 6-5

Burlington Breaks 4-4 Tie, Hands Ellen Relief Loss

BURLINGTON, Iowa—The Fox Cities Foxes Tuesday night were glad to leave this Iowa city where the Burlington Bees broke a place Cedar Rapids, which lost to Topeka.

After dropping 17 in a row to the Foxes over a 2-season period, the fifth place Bees copped three of four from the Three-I League runnersup.

Burlington clinched the series Tuesday with a 6-5 win. The Foxes stayed 1½ games behind first place Cedar Rapids, which lost to Topeka.

Fox Cities opens a 3-day series in Lincoln tonight. Foxes' ace John Ellen (now 3-4) took the loss Tuesday, in relief of starter Herm Starrette. Ellen was on hand in the seventh when the Bees broke a 4-4 tie with the singleton. Starrette had been lifted for a pinch-hitter in the top half of the frame.

Takes 4-0 Lead

Burlington took a 4-0 lead in the third. Roberto Pena doubled and Jose Vidal was credited with an infield hit when Dick Yenchak felled fielding his ground ball. Ed Napoleon sacrificed the runners to second and third.

Bill Jackson got an intentional walk and then Tom Rinks hit a grand slam home run over the right field fence down the line at the 325-foot mark. It was his fifth homer of the season.

The Foxes clipped off one in the fourth. Chuck Smiley walked and Joe Pulliam singled. But "Photti" Anthony hit into a double play. Smiley scored on a passed ball.

The Foxes tied the score 4-4 in the seventh. Anthony, Nellie Cochran and Sam Owens singled for a run. Jim Caldwell walked and then pinch-hitter Frank Montgomery popped a single down the left field line for two runs.

Take 5-4 Lead

The Bees took a 5-4 lead in the bottom half of the frame. Vidal singled to left, went to second on a passed ball, to third on Napoleon's sacrifice and scored on Bill Starrette's sacrifice fly.

Phillies Continue Giants' Skid, 13-9

Dodgers Stay Half-Game Back Of Reds by Nipping Bucs, 8-7

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

OK, so the Cincinnati Reds still are on top in the National League and the Los Angeles Dodgers still are just a half-game behind. But what's happened to the San Francisco Giants?

The club that led through May has done nothing but swoon in June, losing five of six games in a skid to third. The Giants have won but two of their last 10 and dropped their second in a row to Philadelphia Tuesday night as the last-place Phils ran off with a 13-9 decision.

It was the top one-game run total for the Phils this season and the biggest splurge anyone has made against the Giants, who now are two games behind.

Cincinnati clung to first place by rapping Milwaukee 7-3, but the Dodgers kept the pressure on with an 8-7 comeback victory over the third-place Pirates. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-2 in the first game of a two-night doubleheader. The second game, called by curfew, ended in a 3-3, 10-inning tie.

Each Homer

Don Demeter and Clay Dalrymple each hit a home run and drove in five runs for the Phillies. The Giants died hard, scoring five in the ninth. Billy O'Dell (1-3) was the loser, giving up a three-run double by Demeter in the first inning. The Giants got three in the first against Frank Sullivan but reliever Dallas Green then held them in check for his second victory, before he needed Ken Lehman's help in the ninth.

A two-run homer by Gene Freese broke a 1-1 tie for the Reds in the fourth inning against loser Carl Willey (2-3). Gordie Coleman then brought in the deciding run with a sacrifice fly in the fifth. Bob Purkey (6-3) was the winner, but gave up all 13 hits by the Braves and needed

Bench, Bullpen Fail Milwaukee Again; Bob Purkey Records Sixth Win for NL Leaders

CINCINNATI (AP)—Before the 1961 National League baseball season ends the words "the bench and the bullpen failed again," could touch off an involuntary shudder up and down the spines of the Milwaukee Braves.

That's what happened again Tuesday night and Cincinnati took a 7-3 victory that dropped the Braves back into sixth place. The Reds remained first.

In the seventh inning, with the Braves trailing 4-1, Al Spangler took a batting turn for pitcher Don McMahon and hit into a force out.

In the eighth, with one run across, two on base and only one out, Johnny Logan went up to hit for another pitcher. Claude Raymond, and socked a bouncer that allowed the Reds to nip off a Milwaukee runner at the plate.

Wild Pickoff Peg

As for the pitching, Carl Willey started, didn't finish, but was around enough to take his third defeat against two victories. McMahon came on in the fifth and worked through the sixth, helping the Reds to a run with a wild pickoff peg. Raymond was the third Braves hurler. He gave up one run in one inning. Then came "Chi Chi" Olivo. In a third of an inning, he was charged with three runs on one hit and three walks. Moe Drabowsky finished up, walking in one of the runs charged to Olivo.

Cincinnati starter Bob Purkey, who took his sixth victory in nine decisions, started the Reds on the way to their first run in the third with a single. A pair of infield outs allowed him to reach third and Vada Pinson doubled him home.

The Reds like one run so much they took two more in the fourth. After Jerry Lynch doubled, Gene Freese, who survives in the National League on the damage he deals Milwaukee pitchers, crashed his 10th homer.

In the fifth, Pinson led off with a single and stole second before Lynch walked and on came McMahon who allowed the runners to move up a base by throwing into center in a try to pick off Pinson, who scored on a sacrifice fly.

Olivo was greeted in the eighth by Gordon Coleman's double. Freese walked and after a sacrifice, Gus Bell was walked intentionally. Eddie Kasko walked, not on purpose, and a run scored. Drabowsky started pitching and gave up a walk, forcing in a run. An infield out delivered the third. Milwaukee scored single runs in the fourth, seventh and eighth.

lines for Cookie, before he takes command of the embattled Twins again.

"I just hope to get him away from the ball club for a week," Griffith explained. "Take his mind off the team...play golf for a while. Call it a vacation, if you want."

In Press Box
Lavagetto, a quiet guy with occasional touches of humor, seemed to accept the decision in stride. He was in the press box at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night as the Twins, directed by Coach Sam Mele (and then Coach Ed Lopat after Mele was ejected for arguing), lost 7-2.

"What's wrong with us?" asked Lavagetto, repeating a question. "A combination of things. We can't hit. And the pitching has been bad."

"All I know is that I'm going back and we'll talk over the personal problems. Maybe we can trade. I don't know if we can get any help from our minor league clubs."

replaced starter Early Wynn with a run in, three on and one out in the fourth inning. He retired loser Jim Bunning (4-5) on a foul pop and fanned Jake Wood, then blanked Detroit on three hits for his third straight victory in five decisions.

Drives in 3
Al Smith had four hits, one a homer, and drove in three runs for the Sox, giving them the lead with a two-run single in the fourth.

Southpaws Whitey Ford (8-2) and Luis Arroyo combined for a three-hitter against the Twins, who were shut out on one hit for 6-13 innings. Roger Maris drove in four runs for the Yanks and regained the AL home run lead with his 16th, a three-run shot. Jack Kralick (4-4) was the loser as the Twins plunged into ninth place with their 17th loss in 18 games. They played under coach Sam Mele, after club owner Cal Griffith called manager Cookie Lavagetto home for a week's vacation.

Estrada (3-4), an 18-game winner a year ago, pitched his first complete game of the season while blanking the Angels on two singles. He struck out 12, but walked six. The Orioles broke up a shutout duel with Ken McBride (5-3) with a run in the fifth on Whitey Herzog's single. Los Angeles wrapped up the opener in two innings on two homers—Ken Hunt's three-run shot and a grand slam by Leroy Thomas—off Milt Pappas (1-3). Eli Grba (5-4) was the winner.

Thomas was hit in the head by an Estrada pitch in the first inning of the nightcap. He escaped serious injury, but McBride then received an automatic $50 fine when he threw at Estrada, firing a pitch behind the Baltimore right-hander.

A two-run homer by Vic Wertz capped a seventh-inning rally for the Red Sox when they scored four runs and beat reliever Jim Archer (2-1). Bill Monbouquette (5-5) was the winner, giving up a two-run homer by Norm Siebern when the A's scored three unearned runs in the fifth.

Giulio Rinaldi Bristles at Talk That He Isn't Ready for Moore

NEW YORK (AP)—Giulio Rinaldi bristled today at talk that he has been something less than a ball of fire in training sessions for his world light heavyweight (New York — Massachusetts-Europe version) bout Saturday against Archie Moore.

Perhaps he had gone stale? This brought a scowl to Rinaldi's Roman features.

"I definitely have not gone stale," he expounded through an interpreter. "It is my system. It is a good system. My friends in Rome know I never have had a bad fight."

Good All Over
"I feel very good all over. It simply is that I never look too good in training. I train hard but I do nothing spectacular."

Rinaldi has given up finishing his training chores in the parking lot of a downtown restaurant. He has repaired to a gym around the corner.

Rinaldi, 26 and handsome, also shrugged off Moore's feared right hand, the one that has put away many an opponent.

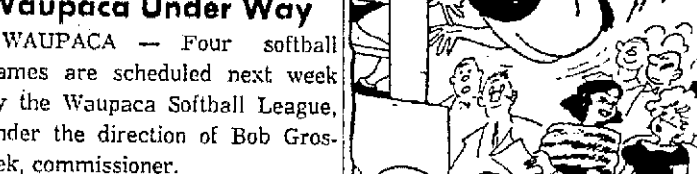

"I was not much impressed by Archie's right when I decided to fight in Italy. In one of the early rounds he landed a solid right on my chin. I was not annoyed."

"Then in the fourth or fifth, he landed some left hooks to the body. They tell I grunted after each one of them. I don't recall doing that, but they certainly have no easy tasks."

Rinaldi has been sparring with three Americans—Freddie Mack, Randy Sandy and Vince Martinez—to adjust himself to the local style.

"The American style is a lot different from that in Europe," he said. "They punch in the kidneys and the back of the neck."

New Holstein Takes Lions Five Errors Hurt Brilliance as Team Falls in Defeat, 8-3

BRILLION — Five Brillion errors in clutch situations were costly here Monday night when the host Lions fell victim to New Holstein, 8-3, in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference inaugural for both clubs.

Although pounded for 10 hits, Brillion pitching yielded only two earned runs.

New Holstein scored twice in the first frame when, with two out and Sipple on first on an error, Lloyd Klapperich boomed a triple and Fuhrman followed with a double.

Tied Score
The Lions tied it up in their half of the frame. Belanger's triple scored Goldschmidt and Belanger scored on an error.

Two errors and two singles preceded Lloyd Klapperich's double in the second to give New Holstein four more runs, enough to win. Brillion scored once in the third and New Holstein added a pair to its lead in the fifth.

Eugene Klapperich turned in a solid mound performance for New Holstein, going the distance to earn the victory. He fanned 13, walked none, but hit one batter. He was touched for three hits and three runs, one earned.

Hansen was the loser. He struck out eight, walked one and was separated from 10 hits.

The Lions entertain Chilton Monday night.

Bob Goalby Fires 134 To Lead Qualifiers

Don January and Bill Bisdorf led the Monday qualifiers with 135s.

The 139 survivors of the sectional rounds will be joined at Oakland Hills next week by 21 players exempt from all qualifying.

They include defending champion Arnold Palmer, six other former Open champions, Gary Player and Doug Sanders, the big money men with Palmer on the PGA tour this year, and other titleholders and leaders in the 1960 championship.

Two other former Open champions made the grade Tuesday—Ed Furgol, the lame-armed 1954 champ who tied the record for Cleveland's Aurora Club with a second-round 65 and led his field with 138 and Worsham, who shot 139 at Washington. Two others didn't succeed—1936 winner Tony Manero and 1946 winner Lloyd Mangrum.

Some of the other noted players who lost out included such top touring players as Ken Venturi, George Bayer, Don Whit and Tom Nieporie; former Masters champion Claude Harmon and a bunch of the foreign players. Among them were Ireland's Christy O'Connor, Australia's Len Woodward, South Africa's Bobby Verwey and Canada's Al Balding.

But you can bet he'll be back in Detroit next week with fire in his eyes, determined to win his first National Open title after nearly 25 years of frustration.

Snead played in his first Open in 1937 and almost won it. He scored 282 at Oakland Hills near Detroit, only to have Ralph Guldahl come in two strokes ahead of him. Since then the title has eluded Sam time after time.

All-Out Bid
This year Snead will be back at Oakland Hills for the Open, June 15-17 and at 49 he obviously is determined to make an all-out bid for the title. He has been playing phenomenal golf in winning at Las Vegas, White Sulphur Springs and the recent Canada Cup matches in Puerto Rico.

He shot 68-70—138 in Tuesday's sectional qualifying round at the Grosse Ile Club, the best in that section. Then he said he was tired, unhappy about his putting and was going home to rest.

Only a few of the 129 players who qualified in 13 sections Monday and Tuesday managed to better Snead's 36-hole score. Bob Goalby, who topped a big and star-studded field of touring pros at Oklahoma City Tuesday shot 66-68—134. There were five 136s and three 137s at the same place and it took even par, 142, to earn one of the 25 qualifying places.

The Court House managed only five hits but tight hurling by George Greisch limited Zwickers to just one run. Art Bogenschutz and John Gabrielson shared the mound duties for Zwickers with Bogenschutz taking the loss.

Moore Says He's Ready for Any Style Rinaldi May Use Saturday

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Archie Moore, the venerable king of the light heavyweights, announced today that he was ready to encounter any style Giulio Rinaldi employs in their title bout in New York Saturday night.

"Let's say," quipped Archie, "who is 44 years old by his reckoning but 47 by his ma's, 'that I will ad lib this one. Whatever Rinaldi does I expect to do something better.'"

Rinaldi, who decided Archie in Italy earlier in the year, has made no secret of his plans. He intends to push the Methusalem of the division, keep him off balance and stay away from his right.

"Hmmm," mused Archie, rubbing his goatee, "the last time we fought Giulio was not particularly aggressive and he didn't crowd much."

Doesn't Matter
"But it really doesn't make any difference. I am completely prepared against such tactics. I am also prepared if Rinaldi tries to do something different."

There had been rumors that Archie would have trouble making the 175-pound limit. But he hopped on the scale and it showed 178½.

"Let us put it this way," Archie said with finality (and that's

Greenberg in Active Control Of White Sox

Stops Proposed
Sale of Stock to Thomas Group

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Greenberg, who made his money by hitting a baseball and then plowing the earnings back into the game as an owner, is the new boss of the Chicago White Sox. Greenberg emerged as the Sox chief Tuesday when he stopped proposed sale of controlling interest in the club to a syndicate headed by Chicago Atty. Bernard Epton and entertainer Danny Thomas.

Vice President Greenberg, President Bill Veeck, currently sidelined because of ill health, and Board Director A.C. Allyn Jr., had been in negotiations to sell their 54 per cent of the club for a reported $4.8 million.

Greenberg said "no" to the Epton offer and that was that. Epton said he would continue his efforts to buy the Sox and that he might take legal action against the Greenberg-Veeck-Allyn combine if negotiations are not re-established within 20 days.

Greenberg shrugged off Epton's comments and said:

"My job is to get the Sox out of the second division and back into contention in the American League race."

The man who once hit 58 home runs for Detroit in 1938 and threatened Babe Ruth's record of 60 in one season prides himself in the fact that he made his money as a player and then poured it back into baseball as an owner.

"Thank God I could hit a baseball," says Greenberg whose lifetime average in the majors was .318 with 331 home runs.

Greenberg, 50, concluded his career as a player in 1947 with Pittsburgh. The following year he became vice president of the Cleveland Indians, then owned by Veeck.

Greenberg joined forces with

Wednesday, June 7, 1961 Appleton Post-Crescent C3

Veeck and the Allyn family and purchased 54 per cent of the White Sox in 1959. Veeck ran the operation until last April when his health began failing.

"I really don't want the responsibility of running the club," Greenberg said "but I'll just have to until Bill is able to take over again."

a one-inning mop up by reliever Jim Brosnan.

The Dodgers came from behind three times against the Pirates, and beat reliever Elroy Face (2-2) in a three-run seventh, scoring the tying run on a two-out pinch triple by Willie Davis and getting the winner on a pinch double by John Roseboro. Bill Virdon of the Bucs and Norm Sherry of the Dodgers belted three-run homers off starters Roger Craig and Joe Gibbon. Southpaw Johnny Podres (6-1), out since May 15 with arm trouble, was the winner with a save by Larry Sherry.

The Cardinals replaced Milwaukee in fifth place behind the six-hit pitching of Ernie Broglio (6-5). Bill White drove in three runs for the Cards, two with a homer, and broke a 2-2 tie with a sacrifice fly in the third inning. Loser Glen Hobbie (4-6) singled home the Cubs' runs in the second.

In the nightcap, the Cubs managed just three hits off southpaw Ray Sadecki, but came from behind for the tie with three unearned runs in the seventh on an error, a walk and a homer by George Altman. Sadecki had two of the Cards' 12 hits off Jack Curtis and Joe Schaffernoth and drove in a run.

Eagle '9' Wins Fifth in Row Hands Northland First Loss in Softball League

KAUKAUNA — The Eagles Club knocked Badger Northland from the undefeated ranks in the City Softball League Monday night with a 4-0 win behind the 2-hitter pitching of Jerry Hawley. The winners, meanwhile, strengthened their hold on first place with a 5-0 record. Badger is now 3-1.

Rich's bar chalked up its third win without a loss, scoring one run in the top of the eighth to take a 15-14 win over Sherm's Barbers.

Marcel Lamers, Northland hurler, allowed four hits. Four walks and two errors aided the winners. Hawley walked two, and his mates committed one error.

Rich's threatened to walk away with its game in the first three innings, scoring five in the first, three in the second and four in the third, but Sherm's fought back and tied the game at 14-14 with a 7-run outburst in the last of the seventh. A single, walk and passed ball in the first extra frame resulted in the winning rally.

They'll Do It Every Time

'Dime Store Bullpen' Depressed Dressen Claims

CINCINNATI (AP) — Charlie Dressen is depressed. As for tonight's game, he said, "I'm going to have Claude Raymond, George Brunet and Don McMahon in the bullpen." That could be the last chance for Brunet who recently rejoined the club after an appendectomy. His earned run average is up over five, and a failure in a relief stint could mean a trip down to the minors.

"Chiki" Olevo will have to perform a tremendous about face to keep from going back to the farm. In two appearances, covering one and one-third innings, he had walked five, allowed a homer and a double and been charged with four runs.

Dressen signified a resigned agreement. "There's nothing more I can do."

Club professional Bob Below will stage a blind bogey event. A cocktail hour and dinner will follow the golf. Russell Lakey is chairman of the 1961 jamboree.

Salesmen Slate Thursday Outing At Ridgeway
The Valley Industrial Salesmen's Association (VISA) will have a golf jamboree Thursday at Neenah Ridgeway Golf Club. It's the group's fourth annual event for customers and other guests.

An engraved silver trophy will be awarded to the winners of each of four flights: purchasing agents, production men, seniors and VISA members. Prizes will be awarded, also, for: second low gross, low net, long drive on the No. 1 and No. 10 holes, nearest to the pin on the fifth, eighth, thirteenth and seventeenth holes and the longest putt on the No. 9 and No. 18 holes.

Jackson's sacrifice fly. The Bees made it 6-4 in the eighth.

Felix Pizarro singled and went to second when Bowers fumbled the ball. Ron Brand sacrificed him to third and Don Nipp hit a 1-run single.

Liggett opened the Foxes' ninth with a home run—his fifth of the year. Cochran singled. Bowers walked and Caldwell beat out an infield hit to load the bases with nobody out. Griffin hit a low line drive to Roberto Pena at shortstop. He fired to second to double Bowers. Yenchu grounded out to end the game.

Methodist Bishop Talks At Lawrence Services

A time-honored order of events will be followed at Lawrence College's 112th baccalaureate and commencement exercises Sunday.

The baccalaureate service, scheduled for 10:45 a.m. in Memorial Chapel, was to feature the Rev. Robert Hamill, co-director of the Wesley Foundation of Wisconsin. Illness has caused a cancellation.

Preaching will be the Rev. Ralph Taylor Alton, bishop of the Methodist North Central Jurisdiction and former minister of the First Methodist Church. Dr. Alton has been a member of the Lawrence board of trustees since 1952.

Music for the baccalaureate service will be furnished by Daniel Smith at the organ, who will play Benedetto Marcello's "Psalm XIX" and Eugene Gigout's "Grand Choeur Dialogue." The Lawrence Choir, under the direction of Edgar Turrentine, will sing "O Praise God in His Sanctuary," by Thomas Matthews; "O Lord, Support Us" by Newton Pashley; Psalm 51 by Theron Kirk, and "God Be in My Head" by H. Walford Davies.

A brass ensemble directed by Fred G. Schroeder will play for the academic processions which open and close the 3 p.m. commencement service on the main campus west of Carnegie Library. The traditional hymns St. Anne and Duke Street will be sung, and President Douglas M. Knight will deliver the commencement address before conferring more than 160 bachelor's degrees from Lawrence, 21 master of science and 10 doctor of philosophy for the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

There are reserved seats for both events, but any empty places may be occupied by the public 15 minutes before the scheduled start.

Praise County Guidance Unit; Ask Personnel

Supervisors Told
Of Caseload, Cite
Interview Needs

OSHKOSH — School, medical and clergy representatives praised the work of the county guidance center at this morning's Winnebago County Board session and several speakers stressed the need for additional help at the center. The board earlier this year rejected a request for an additional psychiatric social worker, contending that the center had a backlog of cases now and another worker would add more cases to that backlog.

This is just the opposite of what would happen, the board was advised this morning. An extra worker would mean an earlier handling of new cases which now have to wait three months, speakers indicated.

Referral Cases

The Rev. Ralph Hermesen, director of the Oshkosh and Neenah-Menasha Apostolate branches, said he often helps some of the referral cases by preparing the social histories himself. This takes at least four hours of interviewing, plus additional time for paper work. An additional social worker is vitally needed, he stressed.

Eugene Baltz, Oshkosh public schools curriculum coordinator, said that system has added a psychologist since the opening of the center and this psychologist also has taken some of the load that would be handled by the guidance center's psychiatric social worker.

Baltz said the Oshkosh schools had referred 44 youngsters to the center and the school psychologist has handled another 120 students to dispose of their cases without needing reference to the center.

Very Good Results

Miss Mary Willis, Neenah school system elementary supervisor, pointed out 36 Neenah children had been referred to the center and said the results were very good. Eleven of the cases have been terminated and the progress has been outstanding, she commented.

Lewis Dröbnick, Omro school superintendent, also strongly backed the work of the guidance center, to which five of his students have been sent.

Dr. Harvey Monday, representative on the guidance center board from the County Medical Society, pointed out that at first some of the physicians were apprehensive about the value of a guidance center. At last week's medical society meeting, he said, the society unanimously adopted a resolution supporting the center and its program. Dr. Monday stressed that "You should have a good center or none at all. To have a good center you must have sufficient help and good salaries to attract competent personnel."

Larger Staffs

Patient load at the Winnebago center for its first year has been equal to that of other centers which have larger staffs and which have been in operation for more than 10 years, the board heard.

He said an additional psychiatric social worker is badly needed at the center. In 10 years, he said, you will see the results because you could pay the same money needed now in welfare aid or in probation.

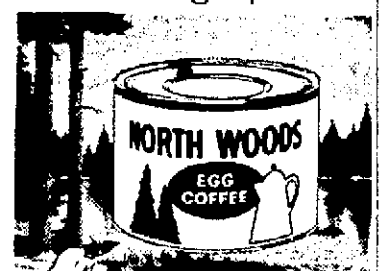

Cheese Industry Seeks Tax Concessions for Aging Natural Cheese

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The fight of the cheese industry for tax concessions is being revived in the legislature. Eleven state senators, representing both political parties, have offered a bill to exempt natural cheese held for aging from the assessments under the property tax.

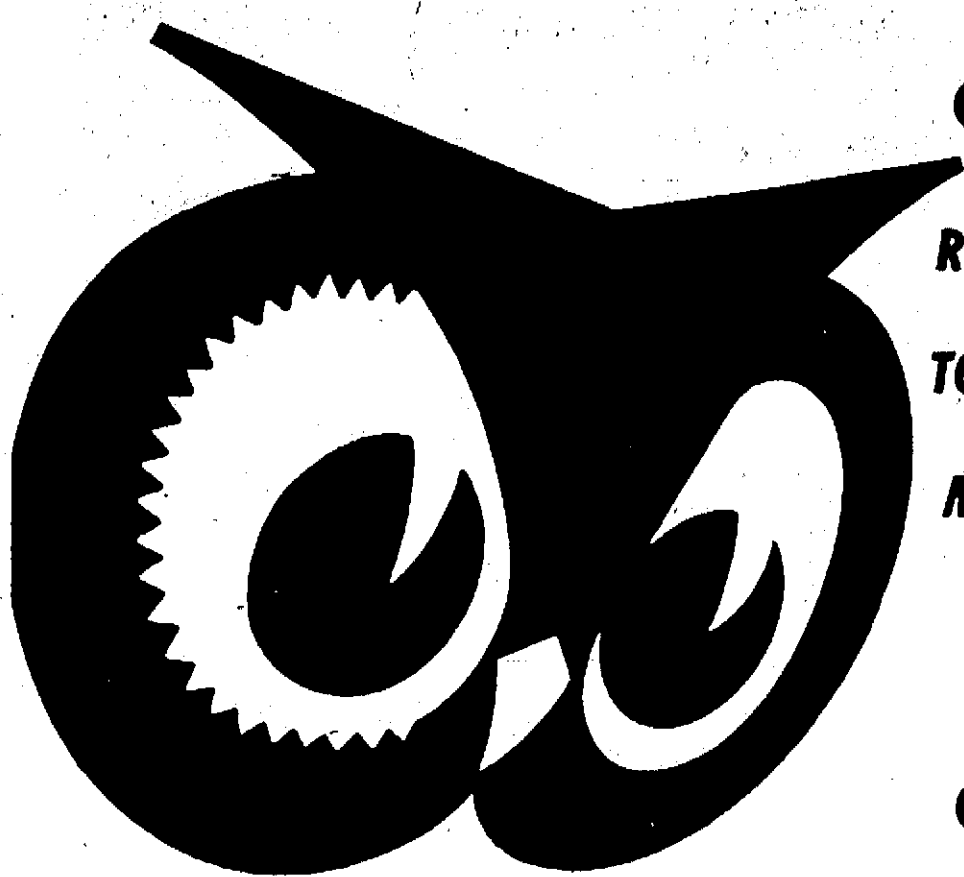

Two years ago such a bill was approved by the legislature, but vetoed by Gov. Nelson with an explanation that it would involve a costly loss of revenues for municipalities in which cheese storage warehouses are located. The governor then cited the adverse effect of such an exemption upon the Town of Preble near Green Bay.

First of 9 Plays Set for Summer

Green Ram Theatre near Baraboo will open its fifth summer stock season Friday, June 30, with a Noel Coward comedy, "Present Laughter."

Announcement of season plans was made by Mrs. Claire Ellen Kentzler, owner and manager of the theatre.

A season of nine shows, many of them recent Broadway hits, is planned for the company.

Coward's comedy, which will run through July 4, will be followed by the recent Peter Shaffer hit play, "Five Finger Exercise". It will open July 7 and play through July 11.

'Windjammer' at Cinerama Theatre in Minneapolis June 12

"Windjammer," an adventure picture featuring a group of young men aboard a square-rigged sailing ship, opens at the Century Cinerama Theatre in Minneapolis June 12 for a limited engagement.

Actually, the film spends more time ashore than it does at sea. The sailors participate in the natives in festivals in Copenhagen, and on the islands of Madeira, Trinidad, Curacao and Puerto Rico. They ride a fire engine through Philadelphia. They become tourists in New York City. They stage a dockside concert with the Boston Pops Orchestra. Then they dive with a submarine before returning to their base in Oslo, Norway.

No professional actors were used in "Windjammer." The star ed by the recent Peter Shaffer hit play, "Five Finger Exercise". It will open July 7 and play through July 11.

Another recent success, "Marriage Go Round," by Leslie Stephen, will occupy the third spot on the summer schedule. It will run from July 14 through 18.

"Night Must Fall," the gripping story of a psychopath by Emyln Williams, follows from July 21 through 25.

The Robert Anderson drama of a persecuted young boy in a boarding school, "Tea and Sympathy," is scheduled for the Green Ram stage from July 28 through Aug. 1.

is the Norwegian training ship, the Christian Radich. This vessel was sunk deliberately by the Nazis during World War II. After the war, the Norwegians salvaged and refitted her for training merchant seamen.

"Windjammer" was produced by Louis de Rochemont.

Peter Ustinov Has His famed beard shaved off by a London barber in preparation for his role in "Billy Budd." The Academy Award-winning actor will co-star with Robert Ryan and Terence Stamp in the sea classic, set in an era when the British Navy required of officers to be clean shaven.

No Goodby, Mr. Chips

Retiring Professor Has Busy Radio, TV Schedule Waiting

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Most famous of the hundreds retiring from teaching this month is Dr. Frank Baxter, who refused to pull a tea cozy over his bald head and fade away like Mr. Chips. The only resemblance between Dr. Baxter and Mr. Chips is that they were both good teachers. But Dr. Baxter is no ivy-covered pedant. A man of infinite jest like Yorick, he has carried his zest for knowledge across the land through the medium of television.

For 31 years, Dr. Baxter's English classes have been one of the notable assets of the University of Southern California. In 1953, he enlarged his classroom for "Shakespeare on TV," a pioneering venture for the new medium. Since then, his TV lectures have garnered a harvest of awards, including seven Emmies.

Retiring at 65, he is retiring from USC. All that remains of his academic career is correcting a set of final papers.

"No, I'm not sorry to be quitting," he said. "After all, I've been at this teaching game for 41 years. That's a long time. I'll be happy not to have to get up early and fight the freeway traffic from South Pasadena three times a week. I won't miss correcting papers; undergraduate prose is not the most uplifting in the world."

"Oh, I'll miss certain things. Mainly it's the students. All of us in the teaching profession are vampires feeding on the blood of the young."

His future schedule sounds athletic. He has lined up lectures all over the country, starting this summer in Hawaii. He will start a 15-minute radio series on subjects of his choosing for Westinghouse, which has been seeking him for two years. He will tape introductions for "An Age of Kings," the British-made series of Shakespeare's chronicles which will appear on TV throughout the nation. He may continue narrating the Bell Telephone narrative hours.

"I feel fit," he commented on the heavy schedule. "In some ways I feel like a man of 20, though the legs tell me different."

Courts Asked to Crush Rights of Each State

Attorney General In Effect Asking to Repeal Amendment

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration has asked the courts, in effect, to make the federal government master and compel the states to be servants — a form of slavery and subservience never envisioned by the framers of the Constitution.

The Department of Justice has just filed a brief with a three-judge federal court asserting that the national government may force a state legislature to appropriate funds or levy certain taxes as the federal bosses in Washington may dictate. If a state wishes education to be conducted in private schools altogether in a state or county, with perhaps tuition grants to parents, the Kennedy administration says this must not be permitted and that every state must be required — against the will of its voters — to maintain a public school system throughout a state.

This usurpation of power — unprecedented in American history — is unequivocally urged by Atty. Gen. Kennedy. It is, in reality, a demand that the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution be either repealed or ignored. This amendment reserves to the states the powers not delegated in the Constitution to the federal government and those not prohibited by the Constitution to the states.

The three-judge court in Louisiana asked these two questions of all the state governments as well as the Department of Justice:

"Would the abandonment by a state of its public school system deprive children of rights guaranteed by the due process or equal protection clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment?"

"Would the answer be the same if the abandonment were on a local option basis after a vote of the electorate authorizing county school authorities to close the public schools?"

'Yes' Says Kennedy

The Kennedy brief answered both questions in the affirmative. It said previous cases "establish the principle that where a state has provided a valuable opportunity, whether it be called a 'right' or a 'privilege,' and then attempts to withdraw that opportunity for irrational or discriminatory reasons, it violates due process rights."

This is an extraordinary claim. It might mean that a Democratic administration on being elected to office in a state couldn't fire a Republican or vice versa. There are many ramifications to the word "irrational" or to the definition of "privilege." It is certainly novel to find the U. S. Department of Justice insisting on uniformity of "privileges" within a state.

The major argument made, of course, by the Department of Justice is that education is a "necessity" and that only through public school systems can the citizens of one state compete with the citizens of another state "in the struggle for professional and economic achievement." This certainly downgrades private schools and places public schools on a level of superiority which nothing in the federal Constitution would seem to justify.

Florida Position

It so happens that when the attorneys general of all the states were invited to submit by June 5 briefs on this all-important issue, a significant document was filed by Atty. Gen. Richard W. Ervin and Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph E. Odum of Florida. It flatly contradicts the argument of the federal government. The Florida brief says in part:

"Our present Constitution, including the Fourteenth Amendment, has not delegated to the United States the power to establish state operated public school systems; to compel states to operate public school systems; to compel states to levy taxes for public school purposes or to determine the adequacy or inadequacy of a state operated public school system."

"We respectfully submit that an affirmative answer to this question by the Supreme Court of the United States would be tantamount to a judicial repeal of the Tenth Amendment. The Supreme Court has no such power under our Constitution."

"All states are not required by the Fourteenth Amendment to offer their citizens the same public services and facilities regardless of how important and necessary such services and facilities may appear to be."

Variations in States

The Florida brief goes on to point out the variations in laws between the states, in both criminal and civil matters, and the many deviations as between forms of government among counties within states. The brief adds:

"The Fourteenth Amendment does not guarantee that all states shall have identical laws but it does provide for the equal administration of such laws as the states may enact."

Finally the Florida attorney general quotes from a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States (Bowman v. Lewis) says:

"The Fourteenth Amendment does not profess to secure to all persons in the United States the benefit of the same laws and the same remedies."

Intermarriage Laws

Certainly there are no uniform state laws on all subjects, nor, for instance, statutes in all states forbidding the intermarriage of certain races.

"It could conceivably be argued by the federal government some day that intermarriages of races is desirable as a means of impressing the new African states that the United States has no racial barriers."

Also, it could be contended that certain states don't appropriate enough money for this or that worthy purpose, or that cities do not properly take care of certain groups of citizens, and that unless the states come up to the standards in such matters set by a federal dictatorship in Washington, the states will be accused of being "irrational" and of violating the "due process" clause of the Constitution. This could reach into housing and urban development and put an end to home rule by states and localities in America.

Russians Reported Far Ahead of U. S. in Biological Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — An army spokesman says the Russians have the trained operatives, gadgets and the germs to strike the Pentagon's 30,000 employees in a secret attack.

The army also warned that the Soviets are so far ahead in both offensive and defensive chemical and biological warfare that it would take the U. S. at least five years to catch up.

In recent testimony before the house appropriations committee, chemical corps intelligence officer W. E. Black said flatly that the Soviets could start a general war using chemical weapons "tomorrow and sustain it along a major front."

He said that the Soviets were equally proficient in covert operations, citing the "possibility of erupting a small vessel of highly infectious material into the ventilating system of a building such as the Pentagon."

Black declared this could be done and that the Soviets "have studied these things very carefully, and have trained operatives and devices that can be brought into play."

Storeowner Loses Bid for Zone Change

Mayor Terms Vote
'Injustice,' Chides
Menasha Council

MENASHA — Rezoning of Harry Stanislawski's grocery store property, 500 Appleton St., missed passage by one vote in the Menasha Common Council Tuesday night.

Required to change the zoning to commercial was eight votes. Favoring the change were Aldermen Fred Block, Louis Gammey, John Gollner, Julian Weisgerber, Robert Sullivan, Morgan Eckrich and Richard Hansen. Against it were Aldermen Robert Mielke, Edward Stinski and Raymond Zielinski.

During the public hearing called before the council meeting for the rezoning, attorneys for and against the change presented their arguments.

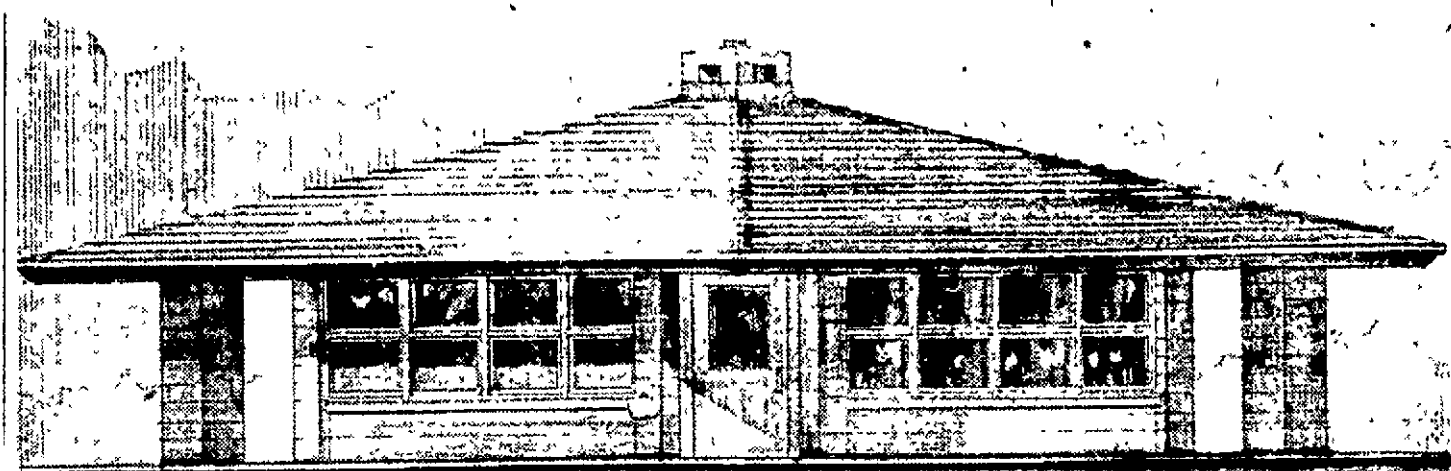

Attorney Allen B. Adams, for Harry Stanislawski, noted the store has been operating more than 50 years and told of its history. He noted that Stanislawski's brother, Ernest, who owns the home immediately north of the store, was the strongest opponent of the zoning change. Adams said Harry had offered to buy the home but the men had not reached an agreement.

Chance to Keep
Adams reminded the council that the planning commission had recommended the rezoning, which would allow the market building again to be expanded. "It is a good chance to help a local merchant," he noted. The store's annual payroll amounts to $36,000 and the tax bill $1,000.

Attorney Charles Schaller, who presented a petition signed by 13 neighbors, including Ernest Stanislawski, offered three reasons for denying the zoning change:

1. A written formal protest was filed from every property owner within 100 feet of the store. They have their life savings invested in their homes, he said.
2. State law requires a 3/4 vote (eight to rezone when 20 per cent or more of the area property owners protest formally).
3. The council has a zoning ordinance, adopted in December 1957, which aims at eliminating "spot-zoning" of properties.

Mayor Sees Progress
Mayor John Klein told the council "progress can be made here. I like to see an independent merchant prosper." To Schaller, Specifications for This Proposed shelter house for Menasha's Garfield Park will be completed next week for submission to the board of public works. The building, whose main door is at the south corner, will be 28 feet, 7 inches square and have a three-foot, four-inch sidewalk around it, protected by the roof overhang. The shelter house has been designed by McMahon Engineering Co.

Council Approves Sewer Bond Issue

OKs Other Projects
After Owners Ask
Further Repairs

MENASHA — Sale of $13 million in general obligation bonds for financing the major storm sewer project was approved Tuesday night by the Common Council through final reading of the initial bonding resolution.

After 30 days, or by the July 5 Council meeting, the bonds may be sold.

City Atty Richard J. Steffens thanked the 34 Town of Menasha property owners who deeded over some of their land or gave easements for the storm sewer project to allow the pipe to be installed under their land. "It is the first time in the state that such a project has gone through without cost. It is a credit to the mayor. I also want to thank the McMahon Engineering Co. (engineering consultant). McMahon had set aside $10,000 for easements. The city is $10,000 richer. It is difficult to rap on a person's door and ask him to give a property right away," Steffens said.

Klein noted that Harry Stanislawski also had invested his life savings and that the area residents had "put up with a business there for more than 50 years. I wonder why they are objecting to it now."

Adams reminded the council that the present zoning ordinance of 1957 rezoned the property from commercial to nonconforming residential and asked restoration to the previous status.

After the council adjourned, the mayor commented on the council's rejection of the rezoning: "I am very disappointed. I think an injustice was done to a local concern."

idea that "I'm as good as anyone else" to "anyone else is as good as I am."

"If we accept this concept—a concept which takes into account that everyone is a human being—then the problems which we face today and the ones which we face tomorrow can be met and met successfully," Storms concluded.

Class speakers were David Foxgrover, who spoke as class president and valedictorian, and Karen Lindemuth, salutatorian.

In his talk, Foxgrover stressed the need for human understanding beginning with oneself.

"We have to know ourself by examination. And once we know ourself, we must uphold our principles," Foxgrover said.

Patriotism and upholding of American ideals were the subjects of Miss Lindemuth's talk.

Move Ahead
"This country can move forward on the same ideals as those of our forefathers," she declared. Presenting the class of 1961 for diplomas was high school principal W. G. Schmidt. Presenting diplomas was Marshall Bayorgeon, president of the Kaukauna Board of Education.

Delivering the invocation and benediction was the Rev. Walter Tyson, pastor of the Kaukauna Assembly of God Church. Music was provided by the mixed chorus, singing "School Hymn," "Halls of Ivy" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Adrian McGrath, high school music teacher, directed the chorus. He was also organist for the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance."

Storms spent the day in the Fox Cities. At noon he spoke on the same topic to the Appleton Rotary Club at the Hotel Conway.

tions by means of peaceful public professions."

Making another observation about education, the governor said we must beware, especially in these days of increasing specialization, of an over-emphasis in these days of increasing specialization, of an over-emphasis in our colleges and universities upon a vocational approach to education.

Our specialists, like the rest of us, need education in the fine arts and social sciences, in those disciplines which are concerned with the good, the true and the beautiful, he said.

"Our students must be more than vocational specialists," Gov. Nelson added. "They must be encouraged to study history and philosophy, the fine arts, and creative literature in order to understand those distinctive qualities of our culture which makes life interesting and meaningful."

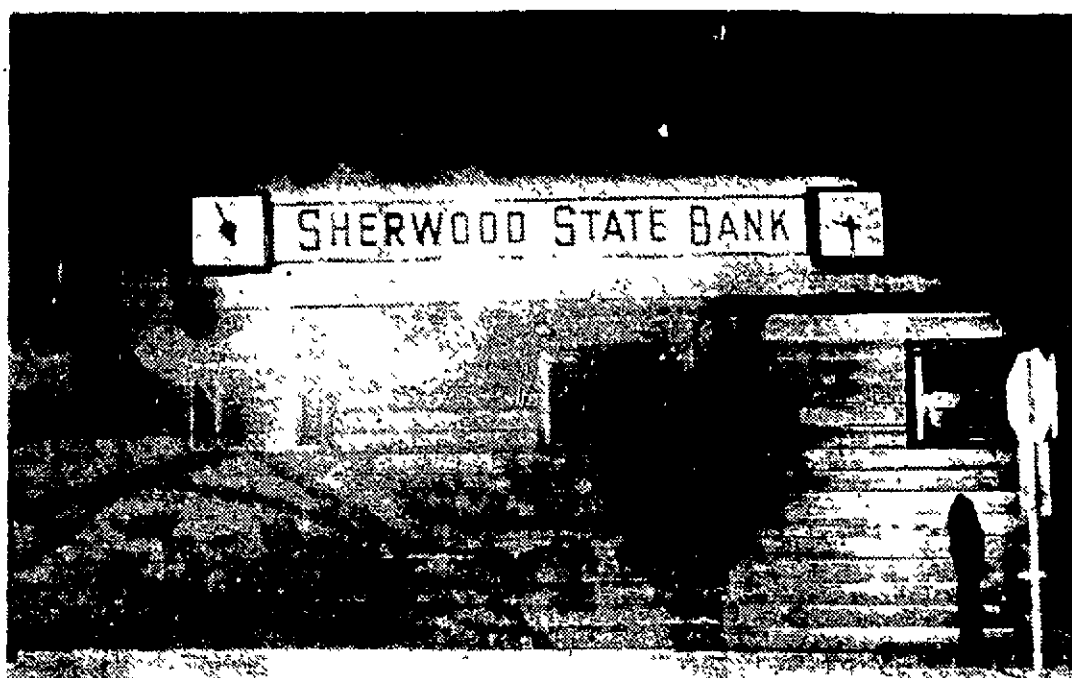

Strength in Ideals

"I cannot state this to emphatically. It is our ideals, our religions, our law, our cultural consciousness, and our ethical principles that constitute our strength in the world," he said.

The governor added that defense is not the way to peace. It offers at best a stalemate which gives us time to try to achieve peace. "The important task to try to reach the minds of those men everywhere who want peace to match our ideas and our beliefs against theirs, to convince others that we believe and that they should believe in human dignity, in human speech, in freedom and in civilization."

Education also has a responsibility for peace the governor told Oshkosh State graduates. "Our colleges and universities must be free to engender the spirit of free inquiry. They must impart the knowledge—and the appreciation of its value, that has been accumulated through the centuries and which constitutes civilization. Without this understanding, we are no more than barbarians armed with the destructive power of the gods."

Wega Restaurant Closed as Nuisance

Police Charge Two Men in In Morals Case

WEYAUWEGA — A restaurant next door to the police station has been closed as a nuisance, Police Chief Kenneth Thompson reported.

The proprietor and a transient who made a habit of loitering in the place are being sought by police on morals charges, Sheriff Ray Abrahamson said.

John Doe Hearing

Sheriff Abrahamson said warrants have been issued as the result of a John Doe hearing Tuesday for the arrest of Marvin Cain, 33, Stevens Point, the proprietor of the Coffee Cup Restaurant, and a transient, about 30, lege symphony orchestra under the direction of David J. Zeff. The Rev. L. Clarence Kelley, pastor, First Methodist Church, Neenah, delivered the invocation and the benediction on charges involving a young girl.

Thompson said Mrs. Cain had closed the restaurant voluntarily Monday upon his request. The chief said today he learned the Cains were planning to close out their Weyauwega business by June 15.

Council Acts

The City Council Monday night authorized the city attorney and Thompson to prepare papers necessary to close the Coffee Cup Restaurant permanently.

Thompson said the restaurant had been frequented by school children for four months. The Cains took over management of the place in November.

Action against the restaurant was prompted when the girl ran away from home Memorial Day. When she returned a few days later, she said she had run away because of the attentions Cain was forcing on her.

More Investigation

Warrants were obtained by Thompson against Cain Monday, but the chief did not serve them pending further investigation. The council chose to close the restaurant "to end the Marvin Cain case," Thompson said.

However, Sheriff Abrahamson had the girl testify in a John Doe hearing Tuesday and Cain and the transient were named in warrants charging Cain with rape and the transient with sexual intercourse with a child.

Thompson said he was suspicious of actions at the Coffee Cup for some time but was not able to obtain evidence for an arrest.

With the closing of the restaurant, Thompson said, the city planned no further legal action. The Cains operate another restaurant at Stevens Point.

New York Firm Low on Bond Bids

$3,125,000 Issue May be Awarded At Oshkosh Today

OSHKOSH — The Oshkosh council is expected to award a $3,125,000 bond issue this afternoon to Phelps, Fenn and Co. of New York City on a low interest bid of 3.266 per cent. Five bids were opened by city officials this morning with the other rates ranging up to 3.48234 per cent.

The low bidder did not include the names of the investment firms associated with it. The other four bids represented a total of 46 companies.

Express Pleasure

City Manager Ray Harbaugh expressed pleasure at the low bid and at the closeness of the bidding, adding that a bid of 3.5 per cent as the net interest rate had been expected.

Phelps, Fenn and Company's bid provided for 6 per cent interest from 1962 to 1966, 3 per cent from 1967 through 1973, and 3.25 per cent from 1974 through 1981.

The net interest cost will be $1,264,115 for an average of 3.266 per cent. The firm offered a premium of $6,384.

The second low bid was 3.3209 per cent entered by Halsey, Stewart and Co. and the 11 firms associated with it. Their net interest cost was $1,285,393, or $21,000 more than the low bidder.

Other Bidders

New American Bank of Oshkosh, in association with Harris Trust and Savings Co. of Chicago and nine other companies submitted the third lowest bid of 3.331 per cent and a net interest cost of $1,289,411.

First National Bank of Chicago and 10 associated firms listed a net interest rate of 3.339191 per cent for the bond issue. Its net interest cost was $1,292,434.

The fifth bid received was for a net interest rate of 3.348234 per cent submitted by Northern Trust Co. Chicago, and 12 associated firms including the Oshkosh National Bank. Its net interest cost was $1,295,934.

The $3,125,000 bond issue will provide $610,000 for the high school auditorium, $515,000 to complete the high school building and equip it, $1,000,000 for storm sewers, and $1,000,000 for water plant projects.

Winnebago May Buy Home Near Courthouse

OSHKOSH—Securing the Keller Nursing Home on Algoma Boulevard near the courthouse was proposed to the Winnebago County Board Tuesday afternoon in a letter from an Oshkosh attorney representing one of the partners in the nursing home.

The board directed Chairman Joseph Drexler to name a committee to investigate the possible purchase of this property which is separated from the courthouse by the Geer-Murray, Inc., advertising agency.

The letter proposed the county consider a planning commission to determine what the county's future needs might be.

The finance committee was directed to investigate the possible costs in connection with the county being host to the state County Boards Association convention so that the county can submit a bid for the 1962 convention.

Alton Cross, Finance Committee chairman for Neenah-Menasha Prospector Days, outlines the budget for the annual promotion for members of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Service Council members at a breakfast this morning at the S. A. Cook Armory in Menasha. Prospector Days are July 19, 20, 21.

The board approved hiring three lifeguards to supervise swimming at the Doyle Park pool. Picked from five applicants were Dan Ifurst, James Geurts and Joseph Verkuilen. They will work with Bill Fitzpatrick, recreation director.

The board authorized the street committee to advertise for curb and gutter work in the village this summer. Bids are to be in by July 5. The board has approved the installation of curb and gutter for S. Wilson Street. A petition was received from residents on W. Lincoln Avenue.

The village attorney was instructed to draw up a petition which the board will present to the Outagamie County asking a transfer of funds to allow for reconstruction work on Washington Street (County Trunk D) this summer. The board emphasized the need for the repair work on the street because of the dangerous hill at the railroad crossing.

Transfer Funds
The board approved transfer of $8,000 from the general fund to the sewer construction fund, transfer of $4,000 from the general fund to the street improvement fund and transfer of $2,500 from the general fund to the municipal garage expansion fund.

The finance committee reported receipts of $23,565 from the state as an income tax apportionment, $529.61 as a fire insurance premium refund, $940.05 from Outagamie County as its share of repairs on the village drawbridge and $640 from the justice of the peace for fines collected between Jan. 16 and June 6.

'Prospector Days' Planned By Twin City Merchants

NEENAH — Plans for "Prospector Days" in Neenah-Menasha, July 19, 20 and 21, were announced today at a "Golden Nugget" breakfast meeting of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce Retail-Service Council at the S.A. Cook Armory.

The parade will be held at 1 p.m. the first of the "Days," instead of at the end of the promotion.

Donald Metz, parade co-chairman, said that several bands from nearby towns have already accepted invitations to participate. Plaques will be awarded to winning floats.

He also said plans are being made to have local automobile dealers furnish new cars and get owners of antique cars to enter. Another plan is to have an honor guard, decked out in Civil War garb, lead the parade.

Calvin Zernicke, promotion general chairman, said 10,000 balloons may be ordered with the words "Prospector Days" written on them. He said about half would be released at the start of the promotion and the rest would be for merchants to give away.

Clarence Loehning, contests chairman, said his group is considering prizes for Neenah and Menasha women in the best old-time costume, for the store window with the best old-time display and a "vigilante wagon."

A 12-page tabloid is being planned in the Post-Crescent on July 18 and in the Twin City News-Record the following morning.

A total of $2,473.90 has been earmarked for Prospector Days by the retail-service council, A. I. Cross, finance chairman, reported. This is about $700 less than was spent last year.

In connection with Prospector Days, "Maxwell Trail Day" will be July 20. Stores will sell their wares from the sidewalks and will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. July 20 and 21.

Seniors Told Frontiers are 'Intellectual'

Oshkosh Honors 1911 Graduates With Luncheon, Corsages

OSHKOSH — The frontiers we face are intellectual frontiers, Roger E. Guiles, President of Oshkosh State College, told 259 members of the 1911 graduating class today.

"To a great extent, we are in control of our own destiny," Guiles commented. "The primary responsibility of learning and growth lies with the individual."

"Pursue with vigor your own potential that you may serve not only your fellow man but yourself as well."

Graduation was at 10 a.m. in Albee Hall on the campus. Thirty-seven members of the class of 1911 were guests of the alumni association at the graduation and a luncheon in Reeves Memorial Union. There were 167 in the class. All but 20 of the living members were present.

Earl Clemans, a member of the 1911 faculty, now retired, was also a guest of the alumni. Each member of the 1911 class was presented with a corsage.

4 Street Racers Face Charges

MENASHA — Four city street racers were convicted today and a fifth is to be ordered into Police Justice Arthur J. Ales' court, according to Police Chief Peter P. Clark.

Pleading guilty of speeding were Richard Coopman Jr., 18, 517 Second St.; Gary Laeyendecker, 16, 709 Lake Crest Drive; Thomas Baldwin, 17, 815 Second St., and Thomas Englebert, 17, 532 Third St. Coopman was fined $14. Ales suspended the drivers' licenses of the other three for 30 days.

The group was arrested on citizens' complaints of their racing Sunday night on Broad, Manitowoc and Paris streets.

Winnebago Board Hears Complaint On Use of Gypsum

OSHKOSH—The District Attorney's office was directed Tuesday to check on whether use of gypsum on the roof in building the county hospital dining room was in the specifications or provided through a change order.

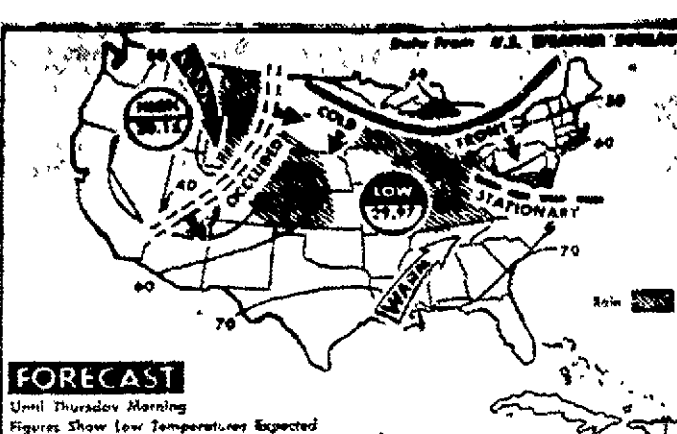

Mrs. Virginia Nolan, Oshkosh, gypsum because it might give Institutions Committee chairman, county a recourse to collect some of its repair costs.

The Board approved holding a hearing to include restrictions in the zoning ordinance regulating the location of mobile homes.

Scattered Showers are expected tonight in the Ohio Valley, lakes region, Virginias and higher elevations of the Rockies. It will be cooler throughout the lakes area.

Approval Granted For Rezoning in New Subdivision

Black insisted lines could be settled later. Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon said he would call a meeting of the planning commission and city and village officials next week in an effort to settle the issue.

The folk in northeastern Appleton were treated to a Grand Prix race today — at 5 a.m. They were sleepy and the racing car made big noises.

About 5:30 a.m. calls began to flood the Outagamie County Sheriff's office. Forty-two residents sleepily told the radio operator that they and their family had been awakened by loud noises from some kind of motor. The Appleton Police Station also received many calls. Some suggested it was a car without a muffler.

Out of Bed

Outagamie County Patrolman E. A. Welch was called out of bed to investigate. Appleton Patrolman Kenneth Vogt also went to the scene.

The scene was the Outagamie County Airport. A powerful racing car was tearing down

Sewer Cave-in Traps Worker In Kaukauna

Little Chute Man Covered to Waist By 10 Feet of Clay

KAUKAUNA — John Verkuilen, 48, 1125 E. Garfield Ave., Little Chute, was trapped in a sewer cave-in on Henry Street for about 75 minutes this morning before he was freed by firemen and fellow workers.

Verkuilen was placing shoring on a Ray McCarty and Sons sewer project for the city when the sides caved in, knocking him down and pinning him up to his waist under 10 feet of clay.

Rescuers used a large digger and hand shovels to remove the clay while other crews were placing shoring to prevent further cave-ins.

Rescuer Collapses

Robert Thonne, Stevenson, Mich., a fellow worker, collapsed from exhaustion during the rescue operation and was given oxygen by the firemen. He was hospitalized.

Firemen also administered oxygen to Verkuilen while he was trapped.

The trapped man helped direct his rescue and dug himself out the final few inches, climbed from the hole, walked about the job and objected to being taken to Community Hospital.

Larry Retzlaff, Catawba, Wis., remained in the hole to keep the falling dirt from covering Verkuilen's head.

The accident attracted a large crowd.

Average Incomes Rising Annually

BY SYLVIA PORTER

How does your family rate on the income scale in this, the greatest middle-income nation the world has ever known? This is how:

Porter

You're only an average family if your income before taxes is now running over $7,000 a year, higher than ever before, a couple of hundred dollars more than in 1960, $500 or so more than in 1959.

Your family is on the bottom half of the income scale if its income isn't over $5,600 a year. This was the median income of American families last year — meaning half earned more, half earned less.

There are 10,000,000 families like yours if your annual income tops $10,000; you represent 17 of every 100 U.S. families. There are 3,500,000 families like yours if of family personal incomes, and your income tops $15,000; you represent six of every 100.

You are in the insignificant minority, accounting for only slightly more than one of every 10, if your family is under $2,000. In this case, there's probably no wage-earner in your family and you're dependent on social security or similar benefits, or your low cash income is supplemented by food and shelter you get from a farm.

'Real' Income

You're typical if your real income has been climbing by about two per cent a year ever since World War II, for close to two per cent has been the average postwar rate of growth in real family incomes. "Real" means the average family income has been "corrected" for price increases and thus the percentage gain reflects the real gain in what the extra dollars will buy in the marketplace.

The Department of Commerce has just issued its annual analysis of family personal incomes, and out of the mass of data in its May "Survey of Current Business" I've plucked these few statistics to help you compare yourself with the averages and to underline what is happening in our nation. I hope you'll be pleased with the way you rate and also exhilarated by what these statistics say about your country.

The first point these income figures pound home is the extent to which we are still changing our economic shape from that of a pyramid, with most families at the low income levels and only a wealthy few at the top, into that of a diamond, with most families in the middle income levels and fewer and fewer at the bottom. An average across-the-board family income of $6,900 in recession 1960 and over $7,000 in 1961 is mighty impressive, no matter what our unemployment and depressed areas problems. Even the most expensive cities, this will permit a family an adequate standard of living.

A second point the income figures emphasize is the extent to which we have become a nation in which increasing tens of millions of families have money left after they buy the necessities of life, and thus have discretion over how they spend or save the extra left. Only families which have money left after they buy essential food, shelter and clothing can spend so much on services — and Americans are spending more and more on services every month. Only a nation which is in fact affluent can afford to be so selective about how it spends and how it saves — and we are selective to an unparalleled degree.

A third point the statistics telegraph is that we are on the threshold of a new breakthrough into affluence. Last year was a recession year and yet a whopping 1,400,000 new families broke into the $8,000-and-up income bracket. This year is a year of renewed expansion and an even larger number will move into this bracket. Since 1947 the number of families and unattached individuals in the $6,000-plus bracket has soared from 13 to 45 per cent. In this short span of time, the number in the $10,000-plus bracket has tripled. You need not stretch your imagination much to foresee a time when the $10,000 bracket will be the commonplace one.

Every year, we are coming closer to eliminating poverty and want. Every year, we are creating a society of abundance for more millions. Of course, there's a lot more to a successful society than its financial achievements, but let's not for one instant downgrade the drama of what we're doing. No other nation even challenges us here.

Brown County Bar Association Asks New Court

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Brown County Bar Association, evidently persuaded that a similar bill presented earlier in the state assembly is in difficulty, has arranged for the introduction of a State Senate bill proposing to create a third branch of the county court of Brown county.

The Senate bill was offered by the Committee on Legislative Procedure, at the request of the county bar.

County assemblymen offered a bill earlier in the year in the Assembly, but encountered opposition from the State Judicial Council which said that its county court reorganization plan shortly to go into effect should be given a trial before a new court in Green Bay is authorized. The bill has been held in the Assembly Judiciary Committee without action for many weeks.

Approve Project

KIMBERLY — Board members have approved a work project on a new parking lot and stairway at Sunset Point Park. Board members will study cost and types of lighting for the lot and stairways.

Pravda Optimistic Over Vienna Talks

MOSCOW (AP)— Pravda declared that the Vienna talks between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have "created a wave of optimism everywhere."

"No one expected sensations or wonders," Pravda added. "International problems in current times are too complicated to be solved at once. . . . An exchange of opinions took place and both sides considered it useful. Contacts between the premier and the president will be maintained on all questions of interest to both countries."
